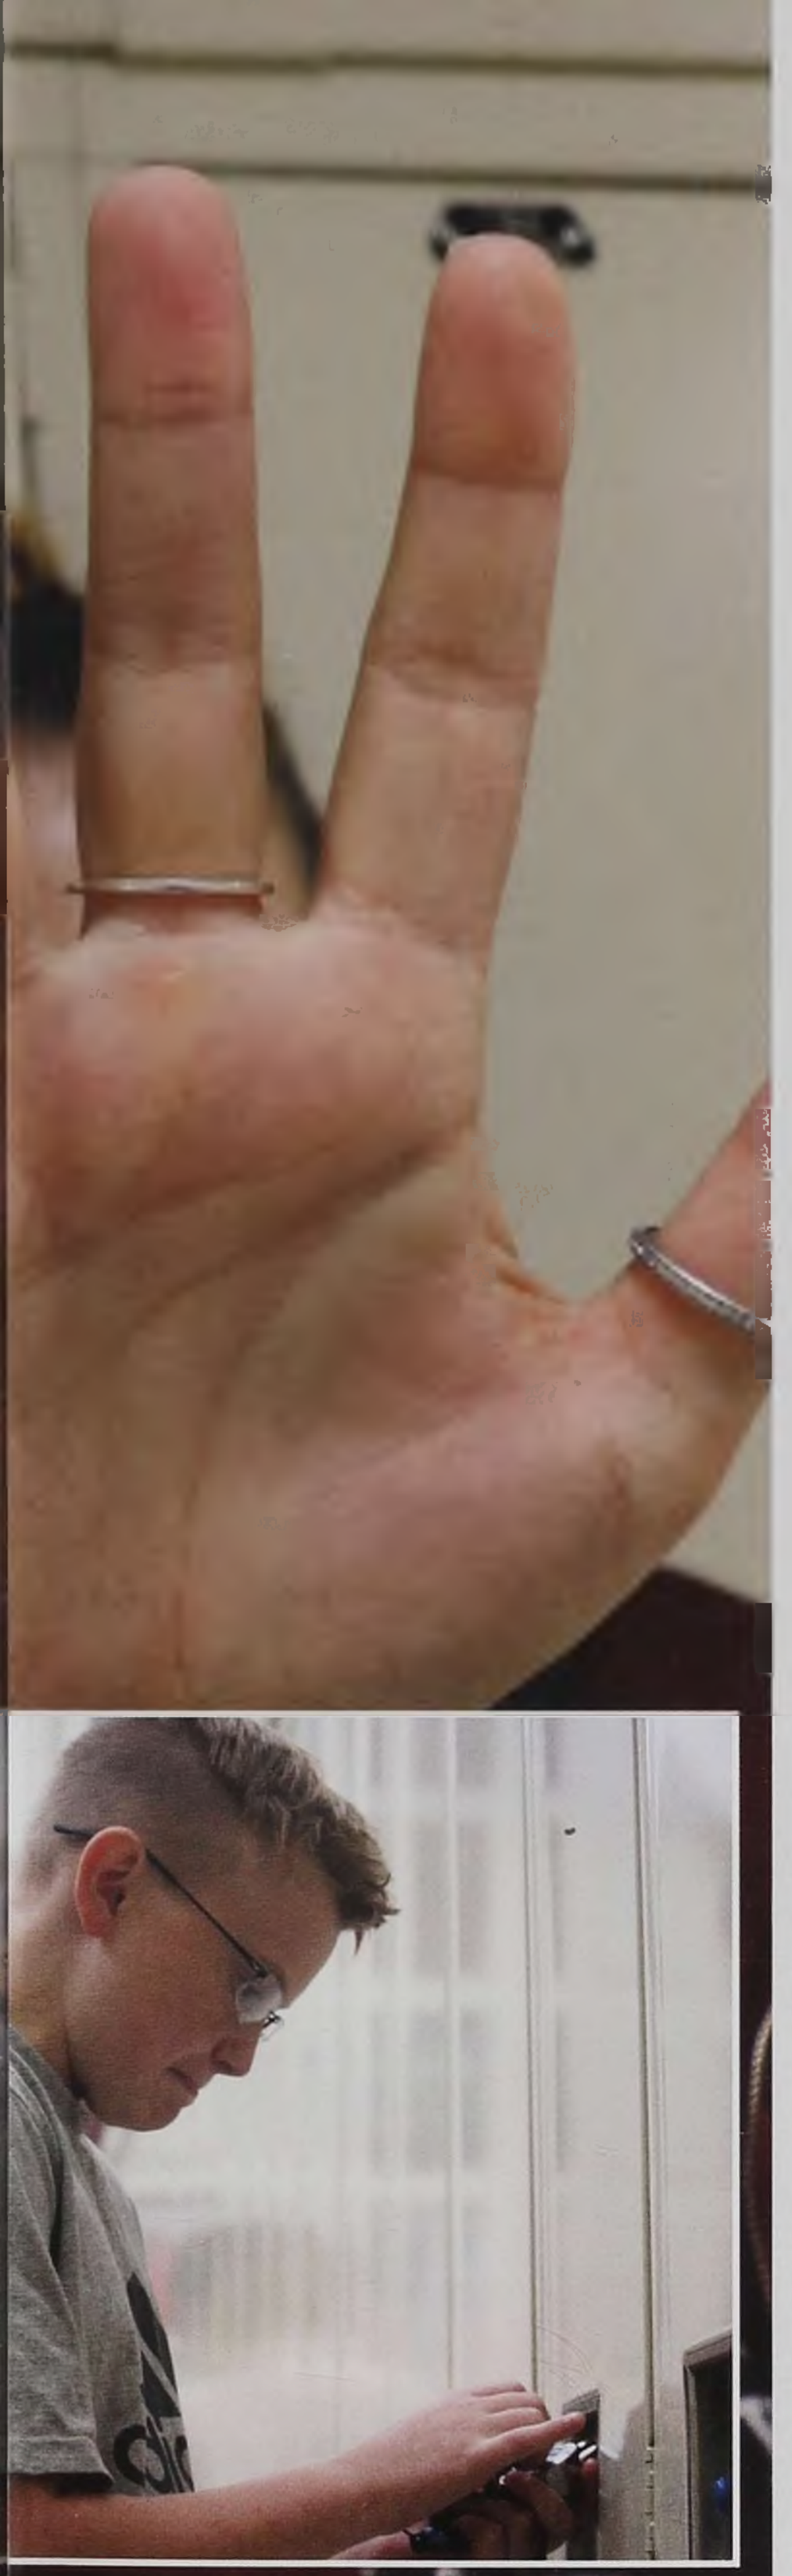
LEAVE A LASTING

IMPRESSION

LOWELLIAN 2019



As the school year comes to end and new lives begin to start, some of us fear what is to come. Am I good enough? Can I succeed? Will I make an impact? These are questions that some might find quite familiar but they still remain strangers to the answers. Since we were young, we were taught that importance comes from leaving an impressionable mark. Your mark represents you and what you have to show the world. Lowell High School sets us up to succeed by providing us with the skills we will need later in life. Whether you chose to use them is your choice but, if you use them in the right way, you will definitely leave your mark. It is your decision how you want to leave your mark, but since you as an individual are unique, your uniqueness makes your mark personal. That personality stems from you and only you. Others don't make up who you are and who you plan to be. That is all on you. Remember that life is short and high school does not last forever; think about how you can Leave Your Mark.

That's How We Roll

By: Katlyn Hamm and Breanna Fields

Although many people might not be aware of the bowling team in Lowell, they are a big hit at the bowling alley and meets. From the six teams that compete at the numerous meets, Lowell placed 3rd overall. The team was able to accomplish this by working hard and bowling three different games every practice in preparation. Those on the team also encourage each other to push themselves further every meet. There are a plethora of techniques involved in being one of the best bowling teams around. The team works together to perfect how they approach the lane and different angles to throw the ball. These techniques are vital in becoming a great bowler both as a team and as an individual.

Alley Talk

Interview with Jacob Leigh, (12)

Q: What makes bowling special?

Everyone in bowling has great sportsmanship and there is way more to bowling then what people think.

Q: What kind of strategies go into bowling?

How you turn your hand and wrist, your approach to the lane, where you stand and what arrow you throw at. You just need to find your spot and adjust where you stand to throw the ball.

Pin Pals 1.) Jacob Miramontes (9) talks to Nicholas Lachcik (9) during the 10 minute practice and strategies about how to rock this meet. Every team utilizes this 10 minute practice round to its fullest ability by having as many of their members bowl as they can. Strike a Pose 2.) Elliot Rossiano (11) finishes up a bowl by watching his masterful shot knock down the pins sitting at the end of the lane. His teammates watch as he ends his turn and wait patiently for their turn to come up. Not A Moment to Spare 3.) The team members, sit down during their break between rounds. Breaks are a very important part of bowling so that team members can come together and give each other constructive feedback. Split Happens 4.) Nicholas Lachcik (9) watches as his ball rolls steadily towards the fast approaching pins. Some bowlers enjoy watching their ball go towards its target while some prefer to turn away and back around once it has hit its mark.

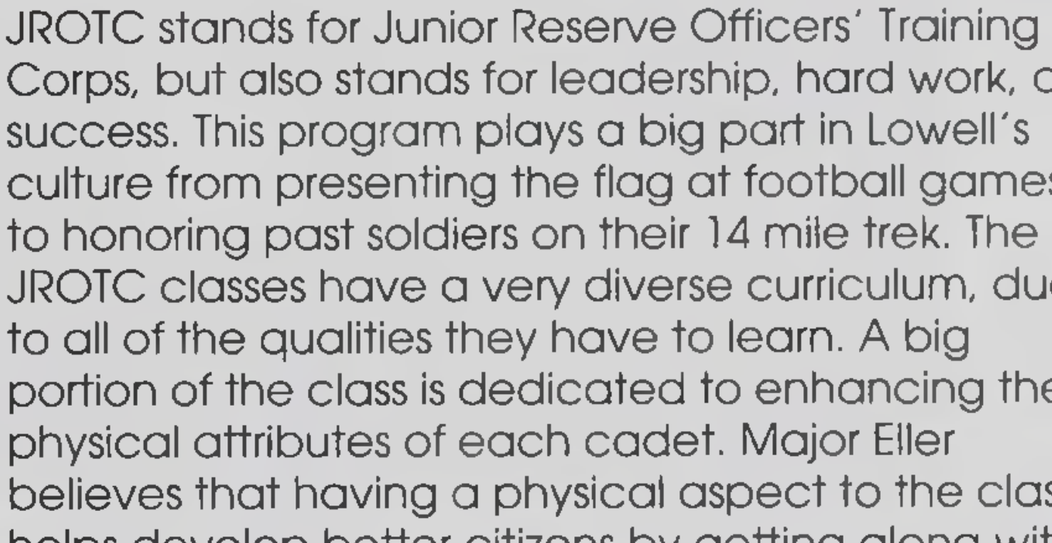
JROTC: Building a Better Tomorrow

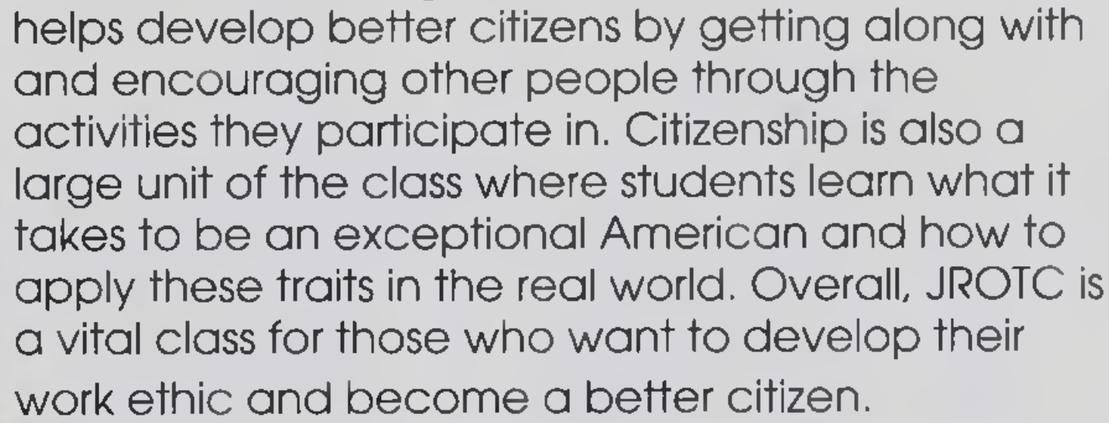
By: Katlyn Hamm and Breanna Fields

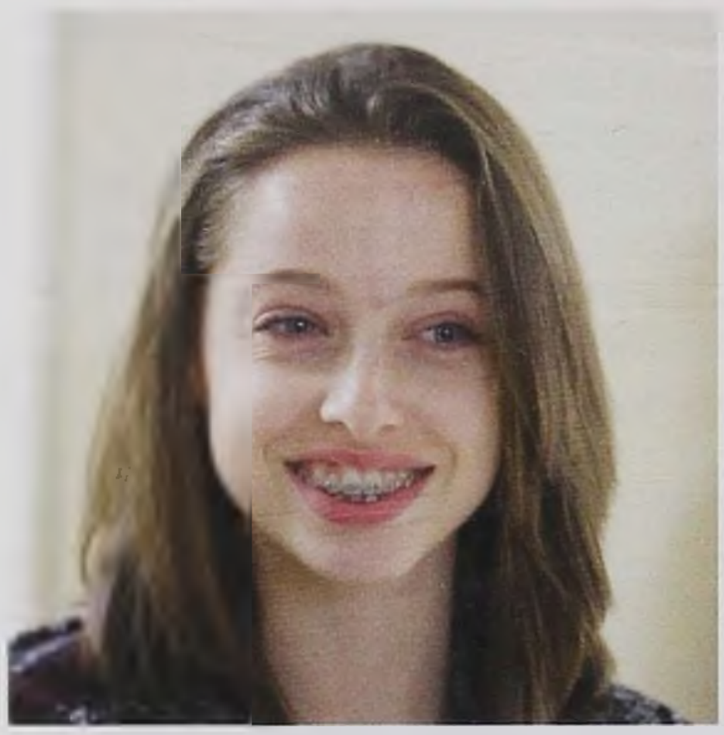
Students are required to shave and have a tapered hair cut, or have their hair up
Tapes usually go here and show the student's name and "AFJROTC"
Standard ABU's must be worn
There must be limited jewelry worn
Boots must be laced up tight and pants must be tucked into them

1) Attention!: Joseph Messino (12) stands at attention in his ABU's. The JROTC students are expected to wear their uniforms properly and proudly. 2) Down and Dirty: Flights of JROTC pose for a quick picture before competing in "flip, carry, crawl, run" in their field day. Each flight carries a flag to represent their team and showcase the bond between each flight member. 3) Navigating the Field: Sergeant Davis teaches JROTC sudents how to read a compass and use it properly. Navigating their way through an obstacle course with a compass is one of the student's favorite field day activities. 4) Free Flags Flying: A student his flight's flag into the ground after completing one of the many activities from the field day. Having these flags unties each flight and motivates them to do their best. 5) Phantom of the Field Day: Austin Wujek (12) and Kyle Hill (10) enjoy the break time during field day by singing and goofing around. Mental breaks are just as important as physical ones. 6) Jumbo Rouge Sphere: A flight of students prepare for a game of Big Red Ball by practicing their techniques. This games teaches the students teamwork and strategy. 7) All Dressed Up in ABU's: The JROTC classes gather to pose for a group picture in their Airman Battle Uniforms. This uniform is almost the exact same as what would be worn in the Air Force besides the tapes.

JROTC stands for Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps, but also stands for leadership, hard work, and success. This program plays a big part in Lowell's culture from presenting the flag at football games, to honoring past soldiers on their 14 mile trek. The JROTC classes have a very diverse curriculum, due to all of the qualities they have to learn. A big portion of the class is dedicated to enhancing the physical attributes of each cadet. Major Eller believes that having a physical aspect to the class helps develop better citizens by getting along with and encouraging other people through the activities they participate in. Citizenship is also a large unit of the class where students learn what it takes to be an exceptional American and how to apply these traits in the real world. Overall, JROTC is a vital class for those who want to develop their work ethic and become a better citizen.







The Hands Behind The Book

By: Jillian Richards

This years Lowell High School Yearbook team was filled with many new faces! This collaborative bunch was trained and developed into the 2018-2019 yearbook team that produced the book you are reading now! As a class, we work towards building and crafting each years book of memories highlighting that school year. Some people might ask, "What might someone in the yearbook class do?" Well, each person has a special role that is extremely important in the making of the book. Each student is assigned multiple spreads or topics that they have to highlight on the given pages for that section. This is how the book is made. We try our hardest to incorporate different stories, people, and names that you don't hear quite as often, as well as huge achievements made by the school, students, sports, extracurriculars, and classes. As our team works, they are lead by this years team of editors including Junior Emily Salomon (Head Editor and Chief), Sophomore Jillian Richards (Side Editor), and Junior Allison Suarez (Side Editor). These girls were past yearbook contributors that help to train and accomplish things with the newly enrolled yearbook staff in the 2018-2019 school year. We all work effectively together and in the process we have developed a family mixed with all grades and ages. Together with our editors and newly appointed staff, this years book will surely leave its mark!

New additions to our team this year, Kayla Egnatz (L), Allison Bishop (LM), Lauren Pratt (M), Emilia Goreski (RM), and Emma Hutchinson (R), pose for an autumn themed picture highlighting their coordinated fall outfits.

This collaborative bunch containing Andrew Kish (L), Mia Rivera (LM), Andru Greene (M), Rachel Kampe (RM), and Adam Morgan (R), sit together in our Lowell High School courtyard with big smiles on their faces.

Sophomores Morgan Schroeder (L), Teagan Jinks (LM), Maitlynd Plants (RM), and Senior Courtney Petersen (R), pose in our crowded halls excited for our new yearbook plan!

Seniors, Carolyn Lane (LM), Nicole Russnak (R), Kelsey Smock (RM), and Junior, Skylar Lewis (L), worked towards multiple impactful spreads in the book this year leaving their personal touches on our schools memories.

This group of sassy seniors including Lindsey Chraponski (RM), Kara Katic (R), Jiilian Scott (L), and Jillian Williams (LM), casually pose for a picture in our high school courtyard.

This grand group of mixed grades including Hannah Crouch (RM), Katlyn Hamm (R), Breanna Fields (L), Bree Prigge (M), and Kaylee Williams (LM), put their heads at risk while posing in the normally crowded halls of Lowell High School.

Enriching Editors

This years yearbook Editor and Chief Emily Salomon (11) assisted by co-editors Jillian Richards (10) and Allison Suarez (11), have worked their hardest to make this book great! We all have contributed in the making, editing, and sprucing of the book thus far. Each of them has also collaborated in the making of some of our annual yearbook spreads such as, The Yearbook Spread, The Fashion Spread, and This Years Homecoming Spread! Each of them were in the yearbook class last year and has structured their knowledge of the building platform and learned the do's and don'ts of the book. All of them have contributed in truly putting their heart and soul into the book and hope that everyone who reads this years book sees how much hard work and dedication that not just that they put in, but how much our team has really impacted this years book.

Fall Fashion

Karen VanDrunen

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?

Pacsun is easily my favorite store to shop at.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?

I love how personal fashion is because it's rare to find people that don't jump on the bandwagon of every fashion trend instead of using fashion to express themselves.

What inspires you on how you dress?

I've always been inspired by my sister and how boldly she dresses. She is able to make any article of clothing work. I probably would never have the courage to dress like I do today.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?

My favorite accessory are my earrings shaped like bees. They're super personal and I love bees, and I'm the only person I know who has a pair of earrings like that.

Sophomore

Rebecca Hirjak

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?

My favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit would have to be Hollister.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?

My favorite thing about fashion is that there are so many different styles. I can always be able to find my own unique and personal style. I can dress how I feel and always be unique with my style.

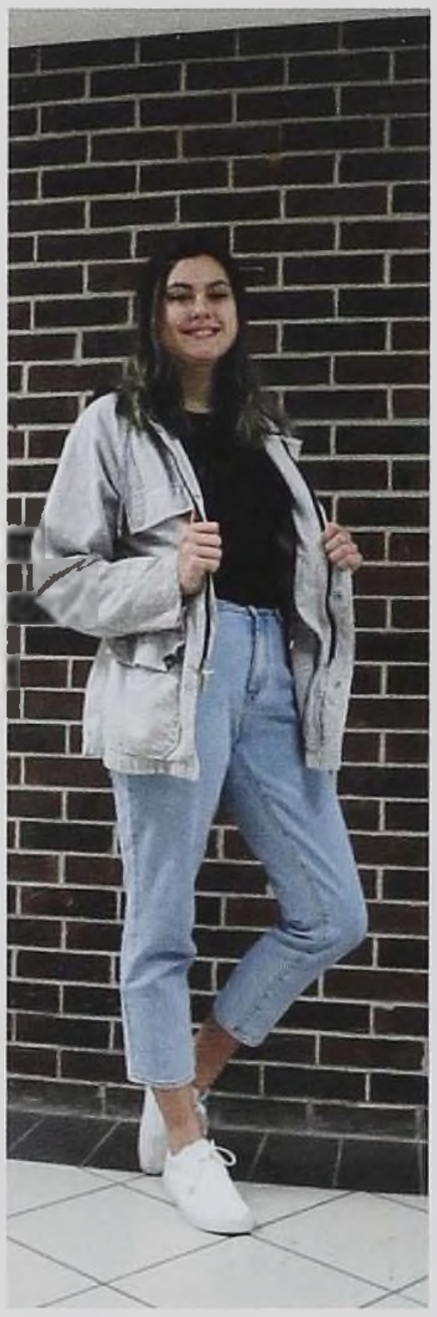
What inspires you on how you dress?

What inspires me on how I dress who have to be that I can be myself and be unique with how I dress.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?

My favorite article of clothing would have to be my green jacket. I can pair anything with a green jacket.

Junior



Frankie Ottomanelli

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?

Forever21 is usually my go to store in the mall.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?

You get to express yourself and you can change up your style at any time.

What inspires you on how you dress?

The time I wake up in the morning depends if I decide to dress to my best.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?

I like jackets a lot because they can really change the way a whole outfit looks.

Senior

Jillian Scott

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?

Forever 21 or my mom's closet. Forever 21 always has cute clothes for cheap and I tend to be on a budget when shopping.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?

My favorite thing about fashion is being able to express yourself through your outfit.

What inspires you on how you dress?

Kylie Jenner or Vanessa Hudgens. They both have very bold styles, Vanessa has a more boho, hippy style and Kylie is more preppy and wears tight dresses.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?

My favorite article of clothing has to be my maroon Doc Martens.

Teacher

Mrs. O'neill

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?

I really enjoy shopping at Marshall's, TJ Maxx, and Nordstrom Rack. It's fun picking through the racks hoping to find the perfect sweater or pair of jeans.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?

I'm fairly conservative when it comes to taking fashion risks, but I admire people who express themselves through fashion.

What inspires you on how you dress?

Honestly, I often see students wearing clothes that I really like. I ask myself, "would it be age appropriate for me to buy a shirt/dress/pants like that?"

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?

I've always appreciated black legging and accessories.

Teacher

Mr. Hudak

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?
My favorite store to shop at is JCrew Factory Outlet. JCrew has a classic Americana style to their shirt and pants that I like.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?
My favorite thing about fashion is taking chances. I love trying to mix and match different colors and patterns to see what works and what doesn't work.

What inspires you on how you dress?
It may be the history teacher in me, but I love looking at the historical pictures of the 30s, 40s, & 50s where men wore shirts and ties every day which inspires me.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?
I love the different unique socks I own, my favorite pair of socks has a picture of John F Kennedy.

Senior

Gage Torres

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?
I would say Pacsun or Forever 21 are where I piece together the majority of my fits.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?
I favorite thing about fashion is expressing myself to others and doing my best to flex.

What inspires you on how you dress?
European style inspires me the most when it comes to fashion because I love the style in that country and I think the Europeans are ahead in fashion.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?
My favorite article of clothing is probably a supreme bomber jacket that I have from Spain.

Junior

Gabriel Sanchez

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?
H&M, because my whole closet consists of clothes from there and the store also has many trendy items that are cheap in price.

What inspires you on how you dress?
Personally, I like to stand out with my type of style so I can add my own touch of clothing and not stay on certain trend for too long. I like to look for inspiration in the way Kanye and A$AP Rocky dresses because it's a similar taste to how I dress.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?
My favorite article of clothing are the jackets that I own. Jackets add a certain touch to make the outfit come together. My favorite jacket is suede bomber that can match my grey Tommy Chukka boots which makes a great outfit.

Sophomore

Adam Bank

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?
Men's Wear-House

What's your favorite thing about fashion?
My favorite thing is my drip from my walk.

What inspires you on how you dress?
Star Wars

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?
My Star Wars robe.

Freshman

Tyler Gorman

What's your favorite store to shop at to find the perfect outfit?
Aeropostale is one of my favorites to shop at because of the selection of clothese there are.

What's your favorite thing about fashion?
My favorite thing about fashion is how you are able to express the way you feel and the person you are.

What inspires you on how you dress?
There are many artists that I listen to that have really cool styles so I like to find ideas from them.

What is your favorite article of clothing in your wardrobe?
My favorite article of clothing is my watch because it matches very outfit I have.

Track or Treat

By: Nicole Russnak and Jillian Williams

Ohana Means Family 1.) Brooke Otis (11), Korrin Skinner (11), Josh Reeder (12), Gage Torres (12) eagerly wait in their Disney attire for the rush of "Track or Treaters" that will storm the halls for candy. They love seeing the kids costumes and making their night with giving them that extra piece.

Up, Up, & Away 2.) Jillian Williams (12) and Anabel Stein (12) act out their favorite movie "Up", together. Their colorful balloons add that extra step to show how passionate they are about giving back to the kids.

Our 16th President 10.) Blake DeValk (11), or should I say Abraham Lincoln, shows his excitement through his cheerful smile. Blake is eager for the awesome costumes and all the candy that the night will bring.

Halloween is just right around the corner which means Track or Treat is too! Track or Treat has become an annual event here at Lowell High School, with this being the school's 5th year hosting this special spooky night. Track or Treat is put on by our very own L-Club here at Lowell High School. It is the first big fundraiser they do where most of their proceeds are donated for our schools special needs purposes. This is just one way they give back to the community where they gain support from the entire town. Families and friends come together to celebrate Halloween on this special evening for trick or treating around the school. Multiple sports, academic teams, and clubs dress up and plan a game for kids in there community. It is the night before Halloween which helps create a positive and fun atmosphere before the town hits the streets on the night of the 31st!

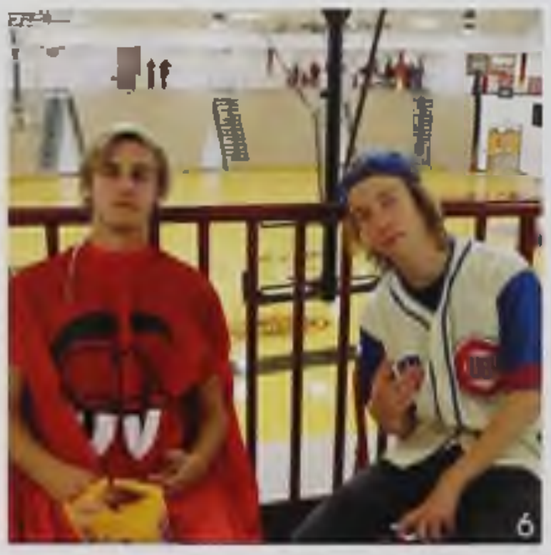
Puffed Out 3.) Sarah Richardson (12) and Lauren Williams (11) strike a pose by two track or treaters that were "Puffed" out with candy.

Helping Hand 9.) Helping a track or treater play the game that the gymnastics team put together. The little kids will do whatever it takes to win their piece of candy!

Leadership 4.) Joey Huer (9), Jake Lax (10), Jae Blank (9), Ryan Marx (9) are giving a big thumbs up to Track or Treat! They are some of the Lettermen's Club members that helped put together this special event.

Mother and Daughter Love 8.) Mrs. Thomas and her daughter smile for the camera after their eventful night at Track or Treat. Tomorrow is Halloween, which means another bag of candy!

May The Force Be With You 7.) Michael Mayer (12) is using the force to brace himself amongst the cluster of children. Dressed as a Star Wars character, he is enjoying his time at one of the biggest events held at LHS.



Running For Candy 6.) Jacob Durr (11), dressed as a red M&M, and Ryan Streeter (11), wearing a Cubs uniform, are supporting the Boys Cross Country team by handing out candy to the children as they walk by in their costumes.

Duck, Duck, Goose 5.) Here is one of ou many track or treaters who participated in the games set up by th clubs and event teams. The little girl is trying to win the small games so she can get all the candy possible.

Arsenic and Old Lace

By: Breanna Fields and Kaylee Williams

This year, the students and directors in the LHS Theater Department worked together to put on "Arsenic and Old Lace", a play about two aunts who have been poisoning old men for years. Looking at an empty stage and trying to envision the final set can be a daunting task, however both the cast and crew work tirelessly for several weeks doing just that. From designing the sets to memorizing blocking, there is rarely a moment where a piece of the final product isn't being produced. By working together, this cast and crew are able to produce an amazing show for the community to enjoy and appreciate. For "Arsenic and Old Lace", both crew heads and their crews each devoted their time to work on specific elements of the play. These crews include stage managers, construction, lights & sound, props, paint, hair & makeup, costumes, and publicity. On the other hand, cast lives and breathes the world that the crew created. They spent hours memorizing their characters by learning things like lines, volume, blocking, and cues. Each and every member of theater is a quintessential cog in the smooth running machine that is the fall play.

Beginning to Build 1.) As Katie Webb (12) and Marlee Bergstrom (10) start to build the set, they look down at the design and try to decide where they should start first. Planning is one of constructions most important jobs. Learning the Script 2.) Mia Leoni (11) and Damien Rex (10) take notes from their director, Mrs. Martin to improve the quality of the show. Being able to have directions helps the cast immensely. Mid-Scene Meeting 3.) Both members of cast and crew meet to discuss different aspects of the set. Communicating in theater is the key to making the show run smoothly. Lights, Sound, Action! 4.) Sound crew heads, Anna Boomsma (12) and Jolie Damm (11), look through the script to ensure that they have the correct sound effects for the play. Having sound effects and good mics make the show that much better for the audience.

Behind the Curtain

What makes theater special to you?

"It's like joining a big family. Everyone is there for each other and everyone has to work together to put on a great show. We all matter in the great scheme of things."

The Brewster Bunch 5.) Mortimer Brewster (Jordan Harris (12)) realizes his aunts Abby and Martha (Destini Mink (12) and Lauren Ritter (12)) poison old men. This scene marked the turning point in the play. Let's Get Down to Business 6.) Props sit down and discuss what they want to accomplish for the day. At the beginning of every theater day, each crew takes the time to make a list of what they need to get done. Red Leather, Yellow Leather 7.) The cast gets ready to rehearse by doing warm ups to get into character. These warm ups helped to create a cohesive team that can bounce off of each other. Abby & Martha: 8.) Lauren Ritter (12) and Destini Mink (12) work hard during tech week to bring their characters to life on stage. Tech week helps the cast and crew iron out any potential wrinkles. Break Time 9.) Megan Linskens (12) and Hayley Durall (12) take a break from working hard on the play. Taking breaks like these helps everyone in theater process what they've accomplished and gives them some time to relax.

Spin It To Win It, Color Guard!

When it comes to Color Guard, a lot of people don't know what goes on behind the scenes. The long practices, the teamwork, the choreography, everything. From waking up early in the morning, to getting home late at night. The Guard, not only dresses up for their breathtaking performances, they practice daily to show off their school spirit in an exciting style. Color Guard never fails in pumping up students for the long games and lively pep rallies. Most importantly guard brings students together by celebrating and honoring their school with calculating tricks and moves. Teamwork also plays a huge role in the remarkable sport. Each person relies on each other to do their best and to never give up. Having each student perform their part makes an immense difference and makes Color Guard what it is today.

Making History!

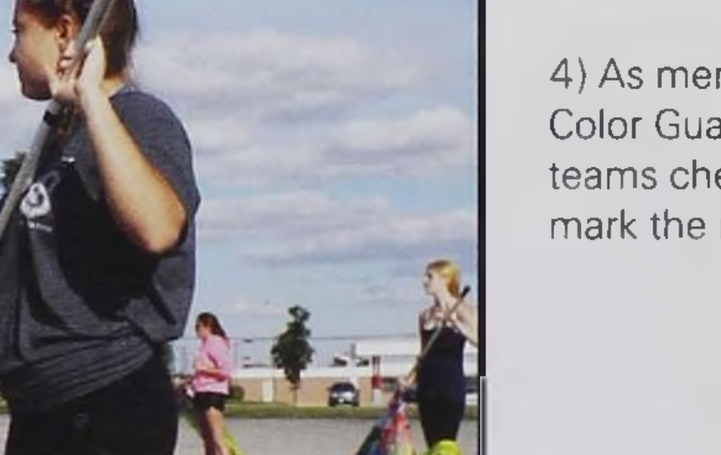
Practice Makes Perfect!

1) Just a normal day in the life of a Guardie! Everyone on the team takes time out of their day to practice for their upcoming competition.



2) During halftime at one of our amazing football games, the Color Guard and Marching Band perform for the fans in the stands.

QUICK! Take A Picture!

3) As the whole team prepares to perform, Director, Mariah Salyers, captures a picture to show all of their excited faces!

Quick! Catch It!

5) Sadly, like every year, the seniors must leave. When asked how she felt about this being her last color guard season, Elisabeth Stolte (12) had this to say "I literally cried for 20 minutes after my last practice. I just don't want to leave this entire group. Just knowing our group will never be the same again but I know that I didn't waste these 4 years, and I'd never change it."

Guardies Interview

Courtney Allen (11) had something important to say about their competitions "The competitions, it's so fun to just go and see other marching bands and see all the creativity"

Sarah Wente (11) could only think of one word when she was asked to describe Color Guard, and that word, was "Family".

Elisabeth Stolte (12) was asked about the teamwork in Color Guard and she said "We try to work together, we can get catty sometimes but in the end of the day we encourage each other and are here for each other. We always make each other feel great and loving".

More Than "Just a Band" Lowell Marching Red Devils

By:Skylar Lewis and Bree Prigge

Not only is Marching Band about working together and performing as a group, but it's about building friendships and sharing spontaneous ideas. Dia De Los Muertos, also known as "Day of the Dead", is what the band has formed their show theme around this year. This years drum major, Natalie Kotlin (11), has worked very hard this year with the band leading up to each halftime performance and Marching Band competition. Every Monday and Thursday, the band practices their show from 4:30-7:30, striving to make themselves better throughout the time given. Along with the band performing during each football halftime show, they play well known songs during intermissions to get the spirit spread within the crowd. The band is one of the major contributions to each and every home football game, helping to hype up the crowd during the game. The Lowell Marching Red Devils never fail to put on a great show.

This year's performances were at the following High Schools: Lafayette Jefferson, Penn, and Concord. With a score of 57.025 the band earned a 2nd place position out of 6 schools that had also competed in Scholastic A Class. Judges were amazed with their outstanding performance and awarded the band with the "Best Effect" award. Prelims this year were held at Plymouth High School on October 6th, 2018. The band came out in second place, advancing to state on October 20th, 2018. The 2018 LMRD marched in the Disney World parade on Halloween weekend. They had the opportunity to explore the theme park as well as see Blue Man Group.

All-Music Award

"Each performer has a unique role in the production, and each one needs to function perfectly and independently to be successful, so it take a lot of time and hard work to get things ready." Mr. Flodder, Director of Lowell High School Band

As a drum major, I get to watch everyone grow closer together and improve in their musical abilities. I also have to be the positive encouragement to help keep the band moving. Natalie Kotlin, Junior

"Marching band is a place where I can truly let go and be myself. I feel safe and at home and no one judges each other because we're all just as weird." Elisabeth Stolte, Senior

1. Forming Friends: Madelyn Layer (10), Emma Carrillo (11), and Breanne Gatlin (11) show their smiles at a performance. Through marching band their friendship only got stronger. 2.Fun in the Sun: Taylor Collins (10) shows her school spirit by marching with the Red Devils during the labor day parade. Having performed in the parade I am sure she was exhausted afterwards. 3. Say Cheese!: The Lowell Marching Red Devils get together for a group photo. The smiles on each individual face shows how much each member loves being apart of this delightful program. 4. Flying Solo: Brianna Hesse (11) performs her solo at a football halftime performance. As she performed the crowed was amazed with how beautiful her playing skills are. 5. Halftime Fun: Marcus Gaertner (10) is standing on the front of the field for one of the first performances of the year. He was so excited to be on the field for one of the first performances of the season. 6. Fly Away: Lowell's Color Gaurd takes the field for a 2018 halftime performance. They never once failed to put on a great show. 7. FRESHie Faces: Jacob Bender (9) takes the field for another halftime show As he marched he payed close attention to the drum major to keep time. 8. Keeping time: Drum Major Natalie Kotlin (11) prepares to start the 2018 halftime show. She always played one of the most important rolls in the 2018 season. 9. Just Bussin' : Lowell Marching Red Devils are traveling to one of there competitions. The never fail to put on a smile for something they are possionate about.

"Marching band to me is kinda like a big family and we all rely on one another to get one big goal done together."
Isabella Spagnola, Sophmore

"Marching band to me is an activity where I hang out with my friends, be myself and not be judged. Performing is like an adrenaline rush. But at the same time you don't remember it in the end because it all goes by so fast."
Caitlyn Ashe, Senior

Performing to me is so much fun. It gives me so much confidence and energy. Even if I mess up I try to focus on the parts I did very well on and improve for next time."
McKenna Marcinek, Sophmore

We Ain't No Angels

The Lowell Cheerleading girls take on their Friday nights presenting their best school spirit. The team hypes up the crowd and the players each game night to make everyone thrive with spirit. Cheerleading is more than just cheering at games but, makes sure they practice their routines so they are ready for their competitions. The cheer team headed to Prelims and made sure to cheer with their hearts so they were able to advance to state. Cheering with all of their passion and after many practices, they decided to compete at the National Champtionship. The girls did phenomenal with their best routine that they placed 2nd and a bid for nationals. Overall, the season was great for the Red Devil Cheer team.

Brylee Carter

What is your favorite part of being on the cheer team?

My favorite part of being on the cheerleading team is the bond between everyone. We are all so supportive, and always there to help each other through anything. I have so many relationships with my teammates and my coach that will last forever

Sumeer Poortenga

Is cheerleading a sport?

Cheerleading is a sport although some people would argue its not. Most of our school only sees us at football games or basketball games but they never see how much work we put in a practice or when we perform at competitions. We have 2 minute and 30 second routine to cheer, dance, jump, tumble, stunt, and do motions. Cheerleading is very dangerous and competitive sport. There is a lot more to cheerleading than meets the eye.

Kiara Hubster-Robertson

Whats it like being on the cheer team?

Being on the lowell cheerleading team is more than just an extracular activity it is like your second home, second family. Sometimes I feel like I see them more than my own family. I think in the past four years cheerleading has been the one thing pushing me to keep going. We are a sport that puts in many hours and dedication to get the skills we need to achieve the goals we are striving for.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

By: Lindsey Chraponski

Athletic Training truly is a game changer for athletics, Athletic Trainers at LHS work around on all sporting schedules to keep athletes healthy around the clock. Our head trainers teach students first aid, stretching techniques and basic self care to be prepared for all situations. Some people do not give the athletic trainers enough credit, they are the first ones there and the last to leave. There are only some people that can succeed as athletic trainers, and these fall trainers are some of the best. Making water, cleaning, taping ankles, taking Baldo's terrible jokes, but most importantly making gatorade. These are all tasks of athletic trainers, but one of the biggest advantages is becoming a family with their fellow team members, and creating memories with their athletes. "I've made a family with people that aren't blood, and I couldn't get through high school without them" said senior Kara Katic. Student Athletic Training is an amazing way for students to come together and learn more than just taping ankles and cleaning water bottles. It teaches you how to be independent, control chaotic situations, and help others. You learn about injuries and how to treat them, but you also learn how to treat a person.

BEHIND THE CABINETS

The life of a student athletic trainer can be a little hectic. From late deep-cleaning nights to early morning bus departures, there is no down time. As one would imagine, this kind of life tends to be a little messy. On the outside of the red cabinets you wouldn't notice it. Like us, they tend to be neat and professional. On the inside though, that's a new story. Clothes, umbrellas, winter boots, snacks, bowls, school projects, and medical kits, to name a few lie within. Even though it may appear to be a mess, everything has a place. Every student has his or her spot on the shelves, and many tend to have the same one for all of their sport seasons. It is a constant in their lives, which is rare in their world. It may look like a chaotic pile of stuff housed in a bare cabinets, but why judge a cabinet by its contents?

FOOTBALL 2018-2019

By Andrew Kish & Andru Greene

The world is filled with countless opportunities and challenges. No student body knows this as well as Lowell High School's. Every year our football program does the unthinkable and overcomes the odds and achieves greatness. Leaving a mark in our school's ever so long legacy is exactly what this team aims for every day and every Friday night. Whether it is a big game or a long Thursday practice, our team is constantly out on the fields playing like it's their final chance to prove themselves. Forty four athletes deep, our school's extensive talent pool makes us a constant threat to any team hoping for a win. Finishing the season undefeated is only one of the many accolades accomplished by none other than the Lowell Red Devils themselves last season. After such a historic year, it is to no surprise that other teams have made sure the Red Devils are marked on their calendars. Despite all obstacles, Coach Kilmer and the RDP crew are ready to compete for a long successful season this year.

"WITH EACH OTHER FOR EACH OTHER"

By: Emilia Goreski & Allison Bishop

Lowell High School's volleyball team is something that you have never seen before. The whole team brings something to the table that makes them thrive. Determination, practice, skill, and a positive attitude all makeup for what they stand for as not only a team, but a family. During an interview with the team's only senior, Dakota Goetz we asked her to explain what their slogan "with each other, for each other" meant to her; and her response was "This saying shows our unity between all the volleyball teams. We might be separated by division but on the court, we are unified." This years season had a total of 8 wins, and 22 losses. Still, the team worked extremely hard to get where they are today between all of the conditioning and team bonding, which shows major dedication to a great sport, by a big family!

TEAM WORK

CAN YOU DIG IT?

WE GOT SPIRIT HOW ABOUT YOU 1.) The girls huddle together before the game starting is a tradition before each match. They all hold up the devil sign symbolizing Lowell Red Devil spirit! LIGHTS, CAMERA, SPIKE! 2.) Hannah Gerstenkorn (9) is getting ready to spike the ball to her teammate, Ivy Richardson (11), across the court. She is prepping for the big game against Andrean for that night. GOT IT! 3.) There are many volleyballs used during each practice to perfect their skills of spiking, diving and blocking. The girls in the back are preparing for a heated practice. HUDDLE UP! 4.) The girls come together at the end of each practice to debrief about practice and their matches. The team is very close and loves to bond with each other at every moment

Leaving Her Mark

Dakota Goetz was the only senior volleyball player this school year. She has played volleyball since middle school and she is extremely passionate about this sport. She plans to keep her volleyball career while she attends Manchester University.

Boys Cross Country was a long glorious season full of laughter, great memories, accomplishments, and dedication. Despite losing 5 out of their 7 varsity runners from the previous year, some of them were still able to rise to the occasion and help take 1st at some of their big meets such as New Prairie, Conference, Sectionals, And for the 3rd consecutive year Bob Thomas. They also took 2nd place at Semi State with only be 3 points shy of taking the title home. They overall had a successful season.

Racing June through October

By Kara Katic and Lindsey Chraponski

From goals to golds the girls truly did accomplish a well rounded season. As a team winning their first invite at Hebron to becoming conference champions. The hardware this season truly did show how dedicated these girls truly are. They rocked post season at Lemon Lake getting first at Regionals. This strength took them as a team to the state meet in Terre Haute. Ending the season in 14th place as a team. The 2018 team surely made this season one for the books!

Croc Gang: 1.) Everybody has a foot in this win! Fear the Braids 2.) Chloe Thiele (11) running to the finish of her race, look at her go! Ahead of the Pack 3.) Autumn Fleming (11) pushing to run past the Hobart runners, to beat their time! Pushing Through! 4.) The faster you run the quicker you're done! Hugs for Victory 5.) The boys really do have great communication! Get ready 3.) Quinn Rosenthal (9) is always prepared to defend the team goal, from jumping high to even throwing himself at the ball. Just look at that technique! Stretch 4.) Ivan Valdivia (10) takes the ball from an opponent, making sure he doesn't get any closer to the Devil's goal. Would you just look at that stretch!

Reaching New Goals

The Boys Soccer team had many goals this season, not only to work hard, but to win as many games as they could. Even with their ups and downs, they practiced hard, but played even harder. The team had a very hardworking season which led them playing a outstanding game at sectionals. The boys were all best friends on the field, but also became family outside of the sport. As Tyler Jinks (12) said, "We all were quiet in the beginning of the season, but towards the middle of it, we told each other a lot, and were way more social."

Cameron Sopovski

Kickin' It Up a Notch

The Red Devil soccer team has striven for the best season they could have had. The team put all their hard work into making the season successful and to make everyone proud. Just like Traci Webb (11) said "We may have not had the best season, but everyone on the team played their best." The girls started off with some difficulties but would make improvements and perfect their skills at practice. The team worked collaborative to make the season great and show off their game to their opponents.

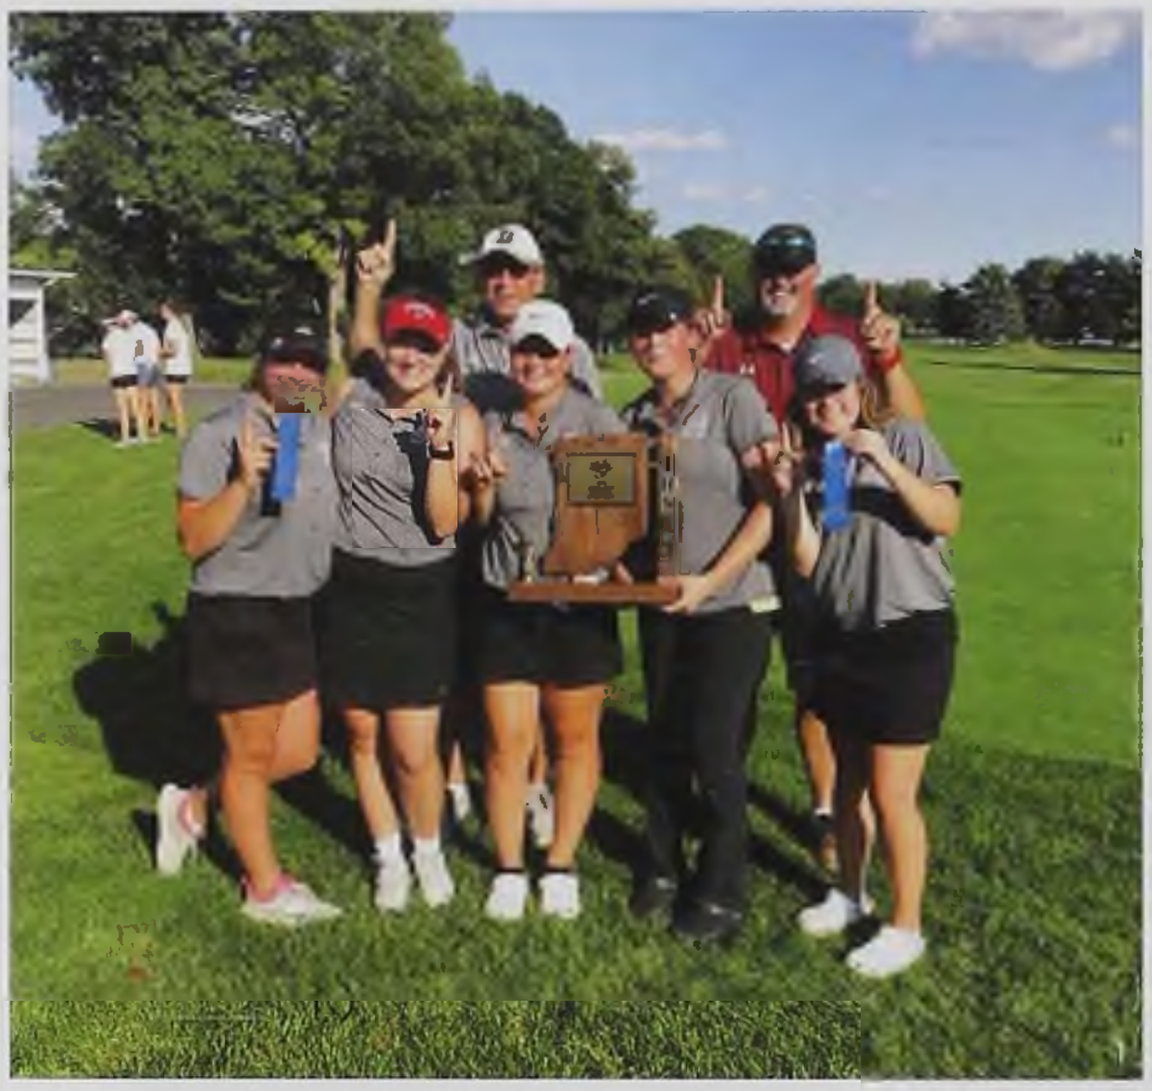
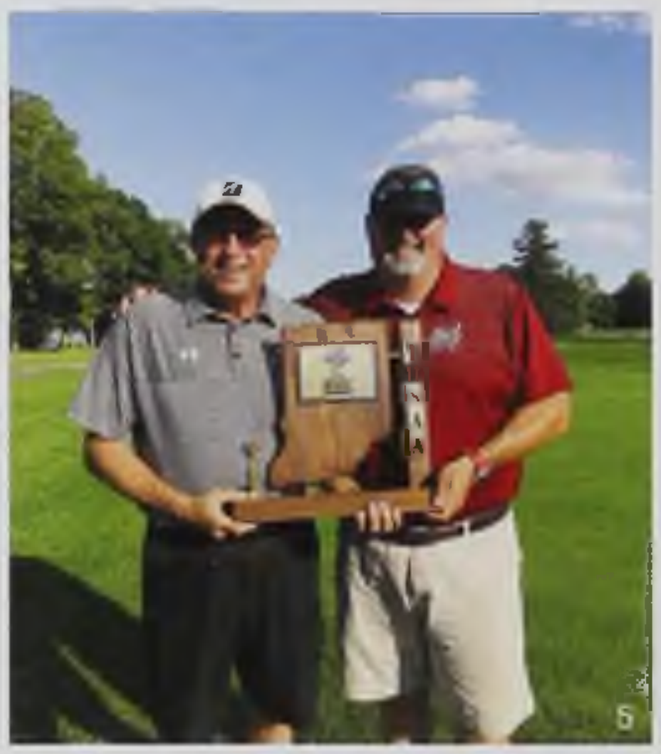
Staying focused 1.) Tiffany Anderson (9) awaits the ball to come to her as she plays her position as goal keeper. Just look at her patience! Not today 2.) Tiffany Martin (9) keeps the ball away from her opponent when she tries to make a goal. Loving that aggression! Just chill 3.) Olivia Henke (10), stands tall waiting for the opponents to try and score a goal. Look at how relaxed she is! 4.) Team spirit 3.) The team huddles up to chant and talk about the game plan. We love their passion and commitment for the game. Breather 5.) Liv Tully (9) takes a moment to catch her breath from a competitive game. Such a great team player! Pass it 6.) As Tracie Webb (11), takes the ball from her opponent, to kick it to Liv Tully (9). What great teamwork!

Girls Golf

By: Hannah Crouch

With each new season comes a new set of goals, this year the Girls Golf team had their mind set to advance past Sectionals. The girls achieved their goal and advanced with a record of 10-2 where their journey wasn't over. The team went to Semi State for their first time in seventeen years which was an outstanding accomplishment. Although their season ended in mid September, the girls were closer than ever and made many great memories that they wi always cherish. It's easy to create a bond together when you spend hours together throughout the day, and riding long distances together. According to Coach Harris the most important thing for the girls to remember is, "to have fun playing a game, but to remember that their coaches are there to use the game to teach the players how to be better citizens."





Sectional Champs 1). After a long season, the Lady Red Devils Golf Team and their coaches celebrate by posing with their sectional trophy The team had a fantastic season. Sink The Put 2.) Tori Langen (11) aims to get her ball out of the sand trap. This is one of the hardest obstacles for a golfer. Hunting For Birdies 3.) Ashely Smith (10) lines up her shot anticipating the perfect swing. She does great hitting the ball long distances. When's TEE time? 4.) Coach Harris shows Tanner Greenholt (11) a techniqu adjustment for her game. She learns somethin new each day. Trophy Win 5.) Coach Harris and Coach Ryan pose with the sectional championship trophy. They were so proud of the girls.

What's All the Racket?

By: Adam Morgan

Many people think that Tennis is a simple sport; but for may of the players on the Lowell Tennis team, the sport is their life. The sport is not as simple as you think, you learn many techniques, and how to use hand and eye coordination. With rackets in their hands and fiery spirit in their hearts, these players are a mighty force to be reckoned with. The team was very strong together and as an individual which led to many victories. The team put their all into the sport and had a successful season to make everyone proud.

Coach Hudak

What's your favorite part of coaching tennis?
Definitely teaching other students about the sport and showing them different techniques. Also, spending quality time with all the student athletes.

Do you have any advice for students thinking about joining tennis?
Do it! It's a great life long sport, can play most of your life until 80-90 years, good to play now for rest of life.

Hit It To Win It 1.) Kyle Mead (9) is all charged up to hit an oncoming ball from the opposing team. Way to go! In Full Swing 2.) Landon Krambeck (10) watches in awe after his hard hitting swing sets the ball flying throughout the air. The ball flew in the air. The Dream Team 3.) The LHS Boys Tennis Team stands together before their sectional at Crown Point. The players did a great job during their matches. Sky High 4.) An awesome drone shot, taken by none other than Mr. Snodgrass, showing the astounding size of the tennis courts, where our star athletes spend most of their time.

TEACH WHAT AND YOU KNOW WE KNOW BEST!

As you turn the pages of the Yearbook, you'll see a lot of sports, academic teams, and many photos of you and your friends. However, LHS is more than just its unique architecture, athletic pride, and abundance of successful and inspiring students, but also the amazing faculty behind the scenes. They are more than teachers, they are role models, friends, and lifechangers. This year, we are fortunate enough to welcome 17 new faces to the classrooms of LHS. 17 new role models. 17 new trusting friends. 17 new life changers.

From school legends to legends to be, we the students want to thank you! Thank you for the friendship, the lessons (good and bad), and the overwhelming effort you continue to put into our education. LHS wouldn't be the same without the family we call Lowell High School. The internet may have replaced paper and pencil, but it will never replace you.

here is a glimpse at some of our new staff:

Mr.Conover,
Criminal Justice

Although the Criminal Justice position had a rough start, Mr.Conover is excited to make it the best class at LHS. With 12 years of college teaching experience, he saw the open position and decided to apply. His favorite part about teaching Criminal Justice? "Something different everyday, with different students and different personalities".

Mr.Harmen,
CTE

You're not seeing double. We have two Harmons here at LHS. Mr.Harmon teaches Human Body Systems and Principles of Biomed, two science and medical heavy classes. Although he started teaching this year, one of the things he looks forward to here at LHS is the "growing relationships with students and staff".

Ms.Cross,
CTE - Animal Science

From a student to a teacher, Ms.Cross realized her love for animals and agriculture through her work in 4-H and FFA. Between her passion for animals and through the inspiration from the teachers here at LHS, she decided to turn her passions into a career. She plans to expand her Animal Science class as early as next year. She explains: "I'm hoping to have the resources to house animals on campus as early as next year so that my students can gain more hands on experience with different types of animals."

Mrs.Harmon,
Health Science

Healthcare is one of the most important occupations in the US and nobody teaches better than a passionate teacher. That teacher is Mrs.Harmon. She's "very excited to teach Health Science here at LHS" and she looks forward to "watching the student's grow and learn about having careers in Healthcare."

Mr.Kilander,
Special Education

One of the best parts of being a teacher is watching the students you worked so hard to teach succeed, and that is exactly what Mr.Kilander thinks. His favorite part about teaching Special Ed is "getting to know our students and all the things that they enjoy in life." He is happy to be apart of Lowell High School, and our amazing administration, teachers and students.

Mr.Estridge,
CTE - English and Math

Knowing a teacher has your back is something that while overlooked, can inspire students to be the best. Mr.Estridge is exactly the teacher who would stand by you, especially during your hardest times. When asked why he taught English and Math he replied with a laugh: "Because they paid me to... no for real, I enjoy reading and writing, I wanna help kids succeed." And like every teacher here at LHS, his favorite part about teaching is the students. Through all the ups and downs, Mr. Estridge looks forward to "seeing all my kids today be successful tomorrow."

Mr.Hebble,
CTE - Advanced Manfacturing

After making great success in the manufacturing industry for 15 years, Mr. Hebble decided to transition into a new role. He plans to expand the manufacturing program, from one class to a full schedule, and hopefully, be able to integrate the program into the local community for profit.

Mr.Swinford,
CTE - Interactive Media

Being a new teacher who has started their teaching career at LHS this year is especially tricky. However, Mr.Swinford does not let that stop him. His favorite thing about working at LHS is the people. "The teachers, the administrators, the students, the clubs, it's nice to be apart of a larger environment with its own culture. Not to be cliche, but everything is my favorite."

Mrs.Camary,
Math

Although she didn't intend to teach math, once Mrs.Camary started teaching it, she realized she didn't want to stop. Her favorite part about teaching is "seeing kids that think they are not good at math realize that they are." She loves teaching math because of how universal it, and that it will be the same anywhere and everywhere you go, naturally making it one of the most important subjects you need to know.

Ms.Pieszchala,
NISEC

Since 2-3 in 1,000 children are born with noticeable hearing loss in one or both ears, it's expected to be challenging to learn in pro-hearing settings. This is why it's important to have wonderful interpreters, like Ms.Pieszchala, who help those students overcome . Inspired by her own deaf family members, she enjoys "helping hearing impaired students understand what is being said by their teachers."

Ms.Anderson
Subsitute Teacher

Aspiring Biology teacher by night and substitute teacher by day, Ms Anderson, who first subbed for Mr.Bays, realized her love for not only biology but also teaching. This year, she took over both Mrs.Van Sickle's and Mr.Bliha's classes and has enjoyed it a lot. She notes her favorite part about teaching is the students saying: "it's not just about academics; it's about growing as young people, making mistakes, and learning from those mistakes." She hopes to be a positive role model for all the students she encounters.

HONORABLE MENTIONS

- On top of being a new teacher, Mr.Swinford also has to juggle a teaching curriculum with golf. He has made 2 World Long-Drive Championship appearances and plans to continue to train. His longest competitive drive is 415 yards, which is about 3 1/2 football fields.

- At one of his former schools, Mr.Estridge helped a struggling student get into college despite facing many obstacles in the student's personal and academic life.

Outside The Classroom

Most people think that a student body is just a group of students at school to learn and absorb knowledge, but Lowell High Schools student body is so much more. Just glancing inside of our school cafeteria gives people a glimpse of how our social scene works. By social scene I mean, the different groups that make up Lowell High School and what holds them together. Other than just sports, these groups are made up of many different people with many different interests. Mr McLindon says, "A lot of the groups are made by the same people they have always known, but the groups always expand and are open to new friends."

Some people might try to classify these groups with labels though, because of speculations thought of from movies and books. Unlike these stereotypical groups, Our Lowell High School student scene has character. Mrs Kozma said, "I think it is impossible for any other school to be as close and together like Lowell High School is." Each friend group whether large or small has a story. These stories are what make our school special. Whether a group met from joining a new team/club or they each met of the first day of kindergarten, these groups were put together for a reason that makes up the family that we create each year here at Lowell High School.

Winter Wonder Weeks

By: Emily Salomon and Jillian Richards

The weather may be cold up here in Indiana, but our Lowell High School students sure know how to have fun during these wonderful winter break weeks. Whether they are taking trips to exotic places, or staying right here in Lowell, everyone manages to fill their winter break days with activity. Ice skating, sledding, and snowball fights fill these students heads as Christmas creeps closer with school a distant memory in their minds.

Hanging out with friends and family throughout the wintery days was relaxing to take a break from school and spend time doing things that interest the students. The students at Lowell High School all spend time together during break with celebrating holidays together and having a great two week break.

Red Devils Racing

Aas a new As the spring season kicks it into full gear, so does the 2019 LHS Red Devil Racing crew. With a great debut season in 2018, this year the team aims to be even better. Currently, the team is working hard on creating the perfect Go Kart for the approaching race. Crew members (from right to left) Michael Cullins, Kyle Brinkman, and Carter Obermeyer work on assembling the kart and cleaning its many parts. Teamwork is key when it comes to Red Devil Racing, and if the teamwork is great enough, it may just lead to a victory in the annual race.

Media

By: Katlyn Hamm and Hannah Crouch

Open the doors to see a wonderland full of books and friendly faces. The media center is a place where all students can feel welcome while discovering their next hot read. Mrs. Hoots and Mrs. Kozma are the two lovely librarians that keep our media center running. These two people turn a once dull library into a beautifully decorated safe haven for book lovers of all kinds. The Media Center also has multiple study rooms for groups big and small, as well as the creation station, where students can make beautiful pieces of artwork. During the school year our library is home to many events, whether its guest speakers or student parties, it is used by all. All bibliophiles (look it up) can come to this place and revel in the inviting atmosphere while enjoying the peacefulness of being surrounded by good friends and even better reads.

1) Blooming Books: A sign sits in the entrance of the Media Center welcoming all those who enter. Decorations help to make this space warm and inviting for both the people and the books. 2) Sweet Reads: This sign along with several others, hang above the entrance to the library. This area is usually a focal point for Mrs. Kozma's works of art. 3) Oh the Places Yule Go: The Christmas tree is the focal point of the Media Center's decorations during the Christmas Season. The Landscaping class works hard every year to turn the library into a Christmas Wonderland. 4) Pretty in Ink: Sitting on the library counter are themed bookmarks for Valentine's Day. Mrs. Kozma and Mrs. Hoots have different goodies for students when they come into the library. 5) Do you Comma Here Often?: A student sits and enjoys the serenity of the comfy chairs while enjoying a good book. Many students often rush to the comfy to beat their classmates. 6) Hunting for a good book: This display case greets students with copious amounts of jungle themed books. Whenever a theme changes, books similar to that theme are put on display. 7) It was a library bash: 3rd grade students from Three Creeks help to color a poster for the monster bash. This was a collaboration between 3rd graders and High School students of all ages.

Center

When you walk in the door of the creation station you are greeted by a colorful room yearning to be used. The name itself is calling for students to come in and unleash their creativity. During the school year, the creation station is home to hundreds of students wanting to express their creativity through school projects. Many teachers also take their classes in the creation station as a nice change of pace from the classroom. All in all, the creation station is a multipurpose room enjoyed by students of LHS.

8) Headed to Creation Station: The train displayed in the creation station is a welcomed familiar sight to anyone who walks in. Many students use this train as an opportunity to capture memories. 9) Creatively Christmas: Students in French 4 take to the creation station to make French Christmas cards. Even the creation station gets decorated when Christmas rolls around. 10) The decorations come to life: A tiger decoration glares at an unsuspecting bunny book. During the month of April, the library is decorated in a jungle theme to promote the National Library Week. 11) Treat Yo Shelves: Hot cocoa is a staple in the library during the cold season. For $1 students can get a steaming cup of cocoa and sit by the TV playing the soothing sound and picture of a crackling fire. 12) Page Turner: Hannah Crouch (12) sifts through an encyclopedia in search of answers for her teen life crisis. This encyclopedia is an important aspect of school research. 13) Book at Me Now: Mrs. Kozma and Mrs. Hoots sit at the computer looking for a book in their online database. These two people bring the media center to life with all of the love and decorations they put into it. 14) Monster Bash 2k18: An LHS students begin to color the Monster Bash sign. Many LHS students came out to help with this event, which was hosted in December.

PEER MENTORING

By Emilia Goreski & Allison Bishop

The Lowell Red Devil Peer Mentoring Program has been going on for 10 years! The program is ran by guidance counselor Mrs. Thomas and teacher Mr. Mike McLindon. The whole basis of peer mentoring is to help people. Each mentor runs a freshman group that meets every week to discuss a variety of important topics like adapting to high school life, future goals, college, and even personal topics like cliques & stereotypes and bullying. Also, the peer mentoring program works with Ms. Witkowski's class, the special needs students. We teach each of them different life lessons, social interaction, and best of all, make new friends! toward the end of the year, we put together a special needs prom that is held for not only Lowell students, but students from all across Lake County, check out a later page in the book for more fun pictures from that event. Not just anybody can be a peer mentor, it takes a special heart with a kind soul to be apart of this amazing program.

What does Peer Mentoring mean to you?

Senior Edition

"To me, mentoring is helping others without expecting anything in return. It is wanting to help, and a want to inspire those around you. "
- Hannah Crouch

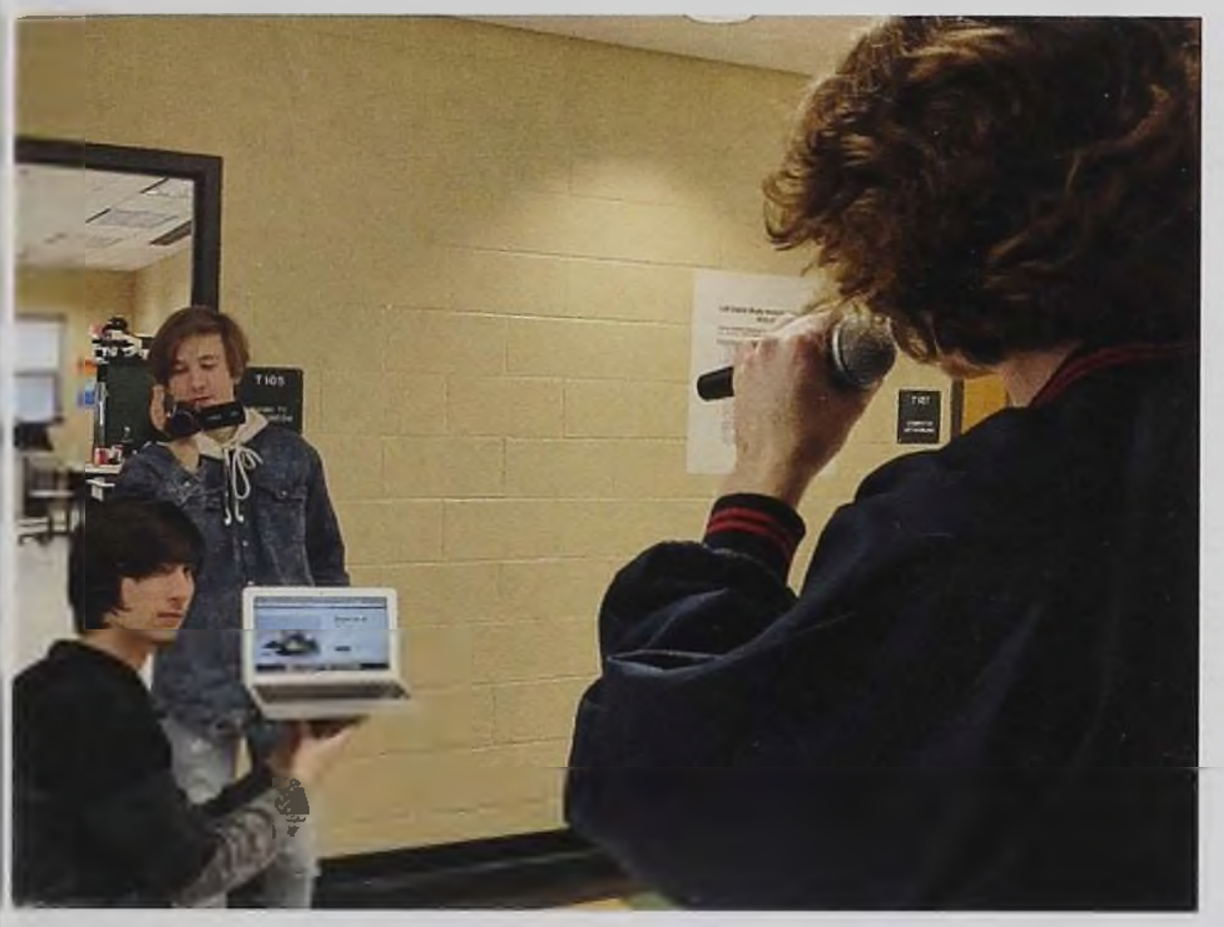
"Mentoring to me is a program that brings in students who want to make a difference in someone else's life and are able to give them the tools to go out into the real world and make an impact wherever they go.
- Alex Jusczak

Radio and TV 1

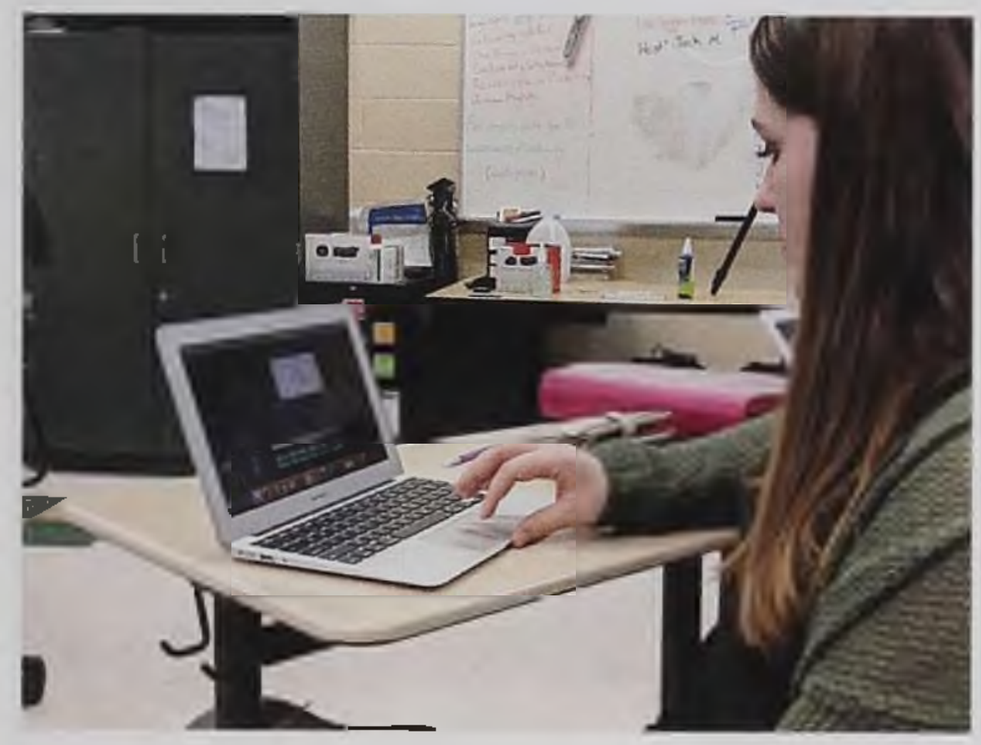
After completing the Intro to Communications, you're finally ready for the next level. Welcome to Radio and TV 1, a handpicked bunch of individuals, chosen by Mr. McLindon himself, for the next level of videography.

Starting in November and ending in February, they took over the Friday show with a range of segments, from interviews to music videos.

Lots of hard work is put in by these students each week so they make sure that the student body can have get a new Friday show every Friday. This course is required to go to the next level: Radio and TV 2.



Radio and TV 2



Radio and TV 2 is a Dual Credit course where students refine their shills from Radio TV 1 and produce a "Friday Show" every week. Shows consist of sports, news, commercials and entertainment based segments. The best segments are sent to state competition with the IASB in the Spring. Check out the awards page in the Spring Supllemental book!

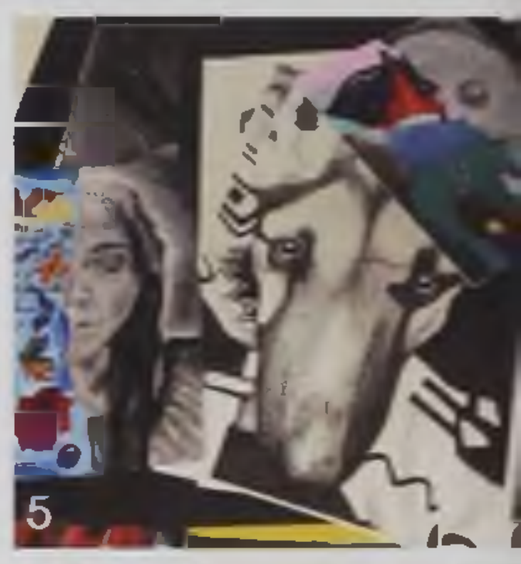
A SPLASH of Color

By: Breanna Fields, Katlyn Hamm, Bree Prigge, & Courtney Petersen

Many students seek an outlet where they can express themselves creatively. At LHS, there are several classes to do this with the help of Ms. LaPage and Mrs. Meska. Art is a dying subject in most schools, yet at LHS we successfully keep art alive and thriving. Once a project is finished both teachers strive to get it out into the hallways of the school to be viewed upon the student population. In 2D and 3D students get to create wonderful works of art using everyday objects for inspiration. Ceramics is the class that every student takes if they are dipping their toes into the pond that is art. Painting and drawing class are potential follow up classes to 2D and 3D where students get to put their creativity to the test and take risks in their art. Art classes at Lowell High School are the fundamental bases of all creativity for the students.

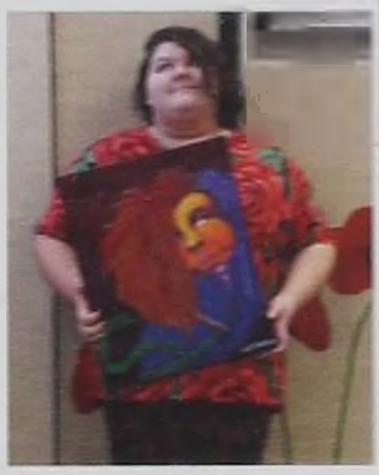


1) Helping Hand: Ms. LaPage gives advice to "enter name here" so that she can add in the final details to her painting. Having this kind of advice and directio helps students grow in their art. 2) Budding Artist: In the 3D class, students created compositions that focused on foreground, middleground, and background. "enter name here" artwork features a buzzing bee looking to pollinate flowers. 3) A Plethora of Paintings: Projects from Painting I sit and wait to be graded. The paintings are from the self portrait project that this class had to complete. 4) #000000 and #FFFFFF: Illustrations from the Drawing II class lay out across a table to show off the talent of the students. These drawings helped students learn the importance of light sources and value. 5) Dog After My Own Art: Paintings from Drawing 2 sit on a table and wait to be presented at the art show. These paintings were apart of a self portrait project, where the students painted half of the face with things that represent themselves on the other side. 6) Clay's Anatomy: Clay houses made by ceramics II students sit in the kiln, ready to be fired up. After this, students will have the opportunity to glaze them to complete their project. 7) Art^3: These cubes sit in the little theater area for all students to look upon and enjoy. The art classes made these cubes after being inspired by the artist Thank You X. 8) Art From Scratch: The art showcase from earlier in the scho year exhibits drawings and paintings from the more advanced art classes at LHS. Having the showcase illustrates all of the hard work the students have done and gives the art program a chance to shine.

) Buzzing With Success: Many students when eating art, take inspiration from everyday items e a simple bee. When all of the best art is isplayed, everyone can see how easy it is to take omething simple and make it beautiful. 10) antled Monsters: During the Monster Bash the hildren are able to see their monsters come alive the paintings put out all throughout the library. hese paintings were made by the painting class r the children to match their drawings. 11) Better ote Than Feather: "enter name here" artwork of a eather transforming into a peacock is displayed the school's art showcase. For this drawing project, students had to choose an inanimate bject and metamorphosize it into an organic eing with graphite pencils. 12) Art and Chill: enter name here" relaxes and sketches out a oman of a girl during an art club meeting. Art ub meetings are beneficial for those who want work on their art skills outside of a class

Student Highlight: Abligail Loudermilk

How have the art classes at LHS shaped you as an artist?

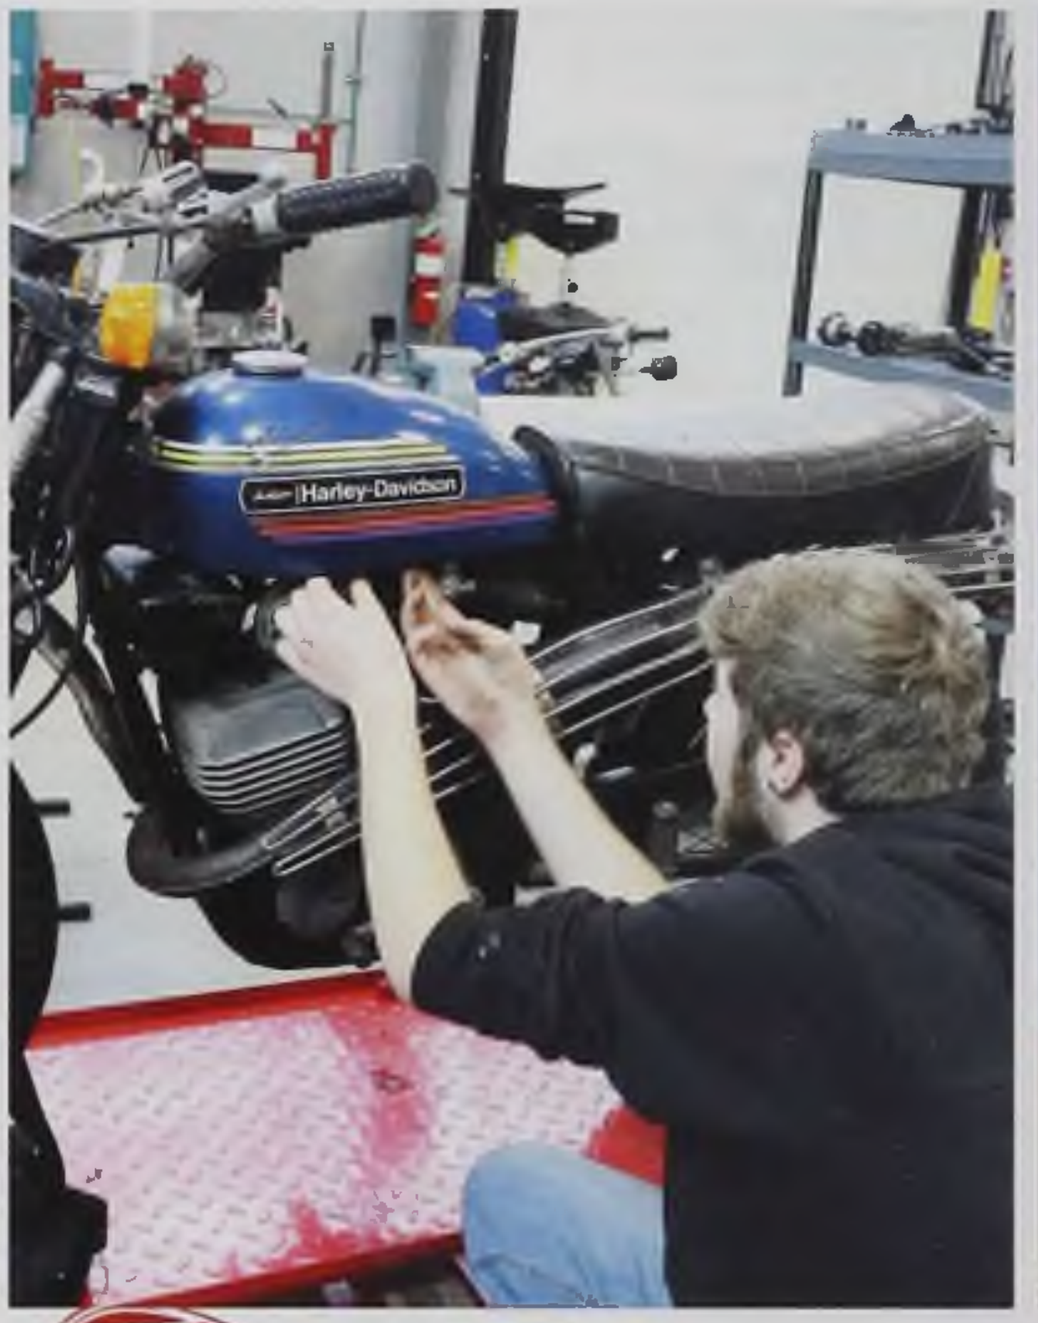


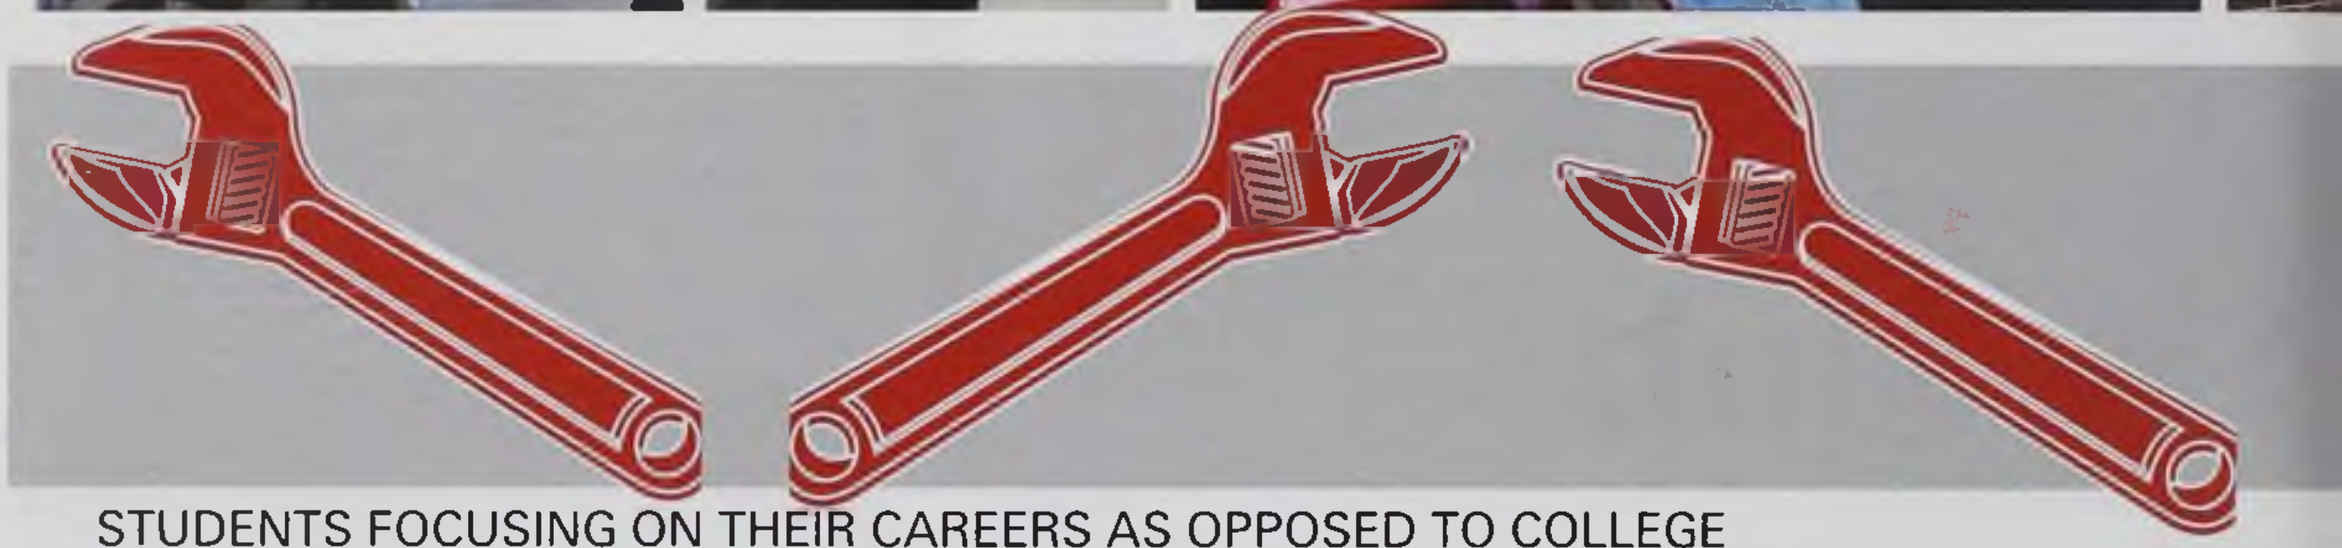
I'm so glad that I've started taking art classes again because I've ventured into so many new mediums: oil pastels, chalk pastels, charcoal, acrylic paints, the list literally could go on forever. Being in these classes has helped me branch out so much and it definitely helps that Ms. LaPage is such a charismatic teacher.

Art Club

This year, LHS has been able to introduce Art Club; for those who want to develop their skills and enjoy the process of creating art. Although they've just started, Art Club has put their best foot forward and helped beautify the school for everyone to enjoy. Students in Art Club worked together to develop a concept and complete a mural that represented the students of Lowell High School, along with other projects that included painting on school recycling bins and making decorations for the turnabout dance. Aside from projects for the school, students in Art Club get to uniquely express themselves through their work.

13) Vincent Can Gogh: Hailey Stimler (12) and Connor Scalfi (12) paint cans as decorations for North Pole of Lowell. Art Club takes their time to help beautify school events in any way they can. 14) We Are Lowell: Art club begins to paint the mural that represents the entire student body. They all worked together to brainstorm the concept and the execution of it. 15) Big Time Brush: Shelby Bink (10) stands and summons her inner Bob Ross while painting with two brushes. This painting turned out to be a snowy landscape which was hung up during North Pole of Lowell.





STUDENTS FOCUSING ON THEIR CAREERS AS OPPOSED TO COLLEGE

High school Prepares students for their college or career paths. Although college might be a popular choice that students make, some students take a look at a career fresh out of High School. The desired Trades Building was made in the late 2017 and early 2018, made solely for trade building courses. Automatizes, Welding, and Machining take place in this designated area, which is a sophomore, Junior and Senior based class. Many students were thrilled when they heard the news about this building being constructed with a total of ___ students taking part in its inaugural year. Not only can these classes help prepare students for future plans, it can also give the financial stability students are looking for straight out of high school.

Red DEVIL Trades

Collaborating & Conquering

LHS staff

Why did you make the trades?...

I am a former CTE (Career Technology Education) teacher. I actually tarted and taught the Criminal Justice class for six years. That is when I saw he value of CTE classes to meet the interest and needs of many students. .earning a skill or trade leads to employment after school. Many students hat I had in CJ are now police officers and lawyers. Lowell has always had CTE programs and we identified a need to grow our program. We work with community partners in all of our CTE programs so we hear from them the areas where they need workers and what skills those employees need.

Whats your favorite part of this building?...

My favorite part of the building/program is the opportunity it gives kids o learn skills and earn certifications that get them jobs.

Do you have any improvements planned?...

We are now talking about starting a building trades program. That would be wood construction and finishing. I have already met with the Carpenter's union on how to move forward with this. Dr Gardin has bee a huge driving force in getting a construction program going to provide more killed trade options for students.

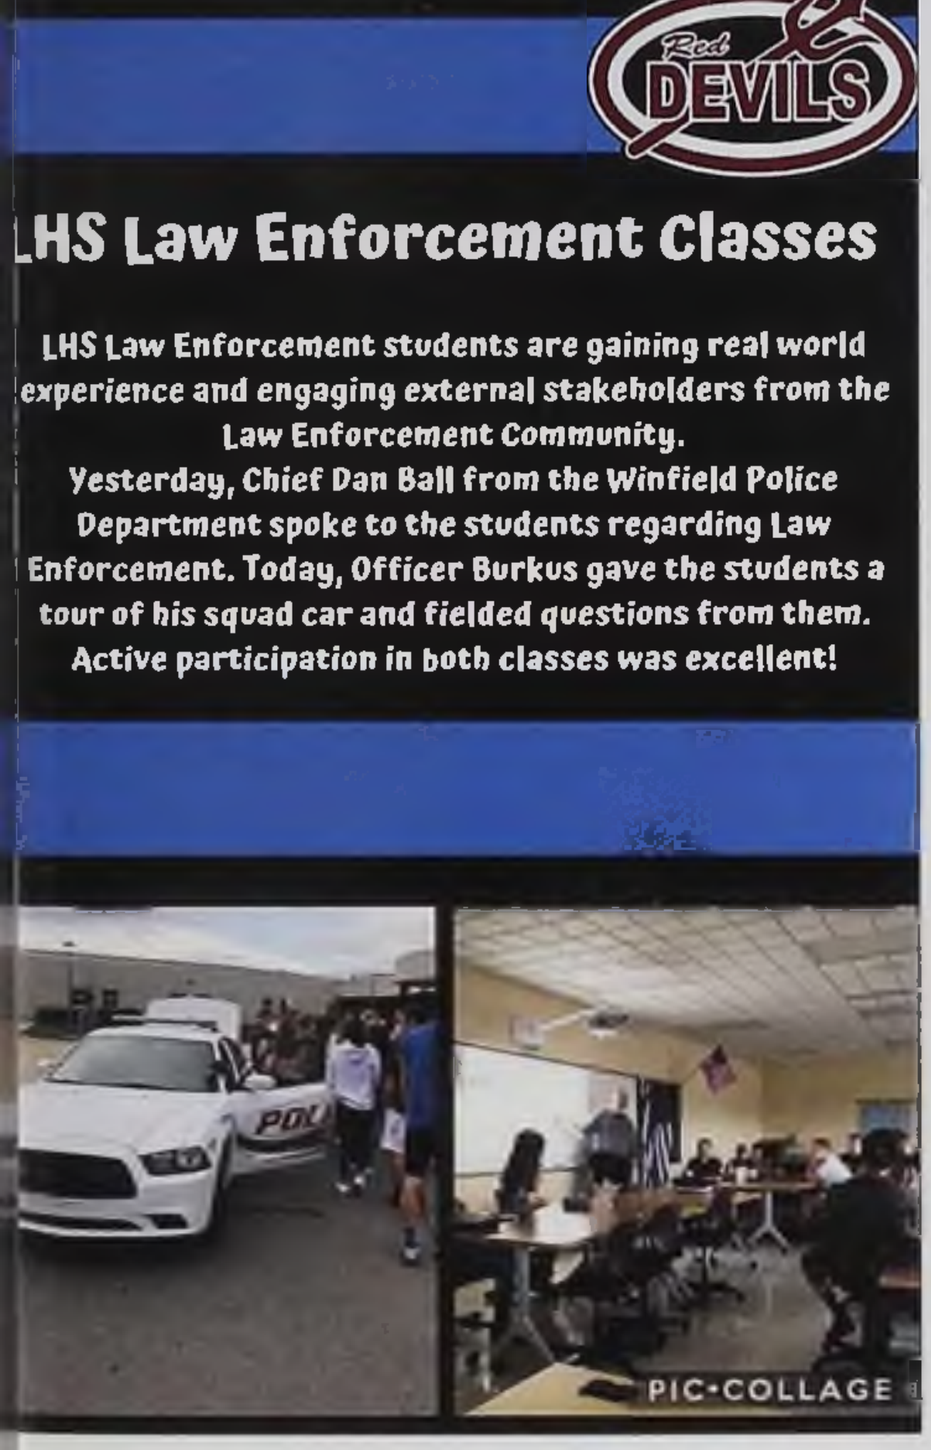
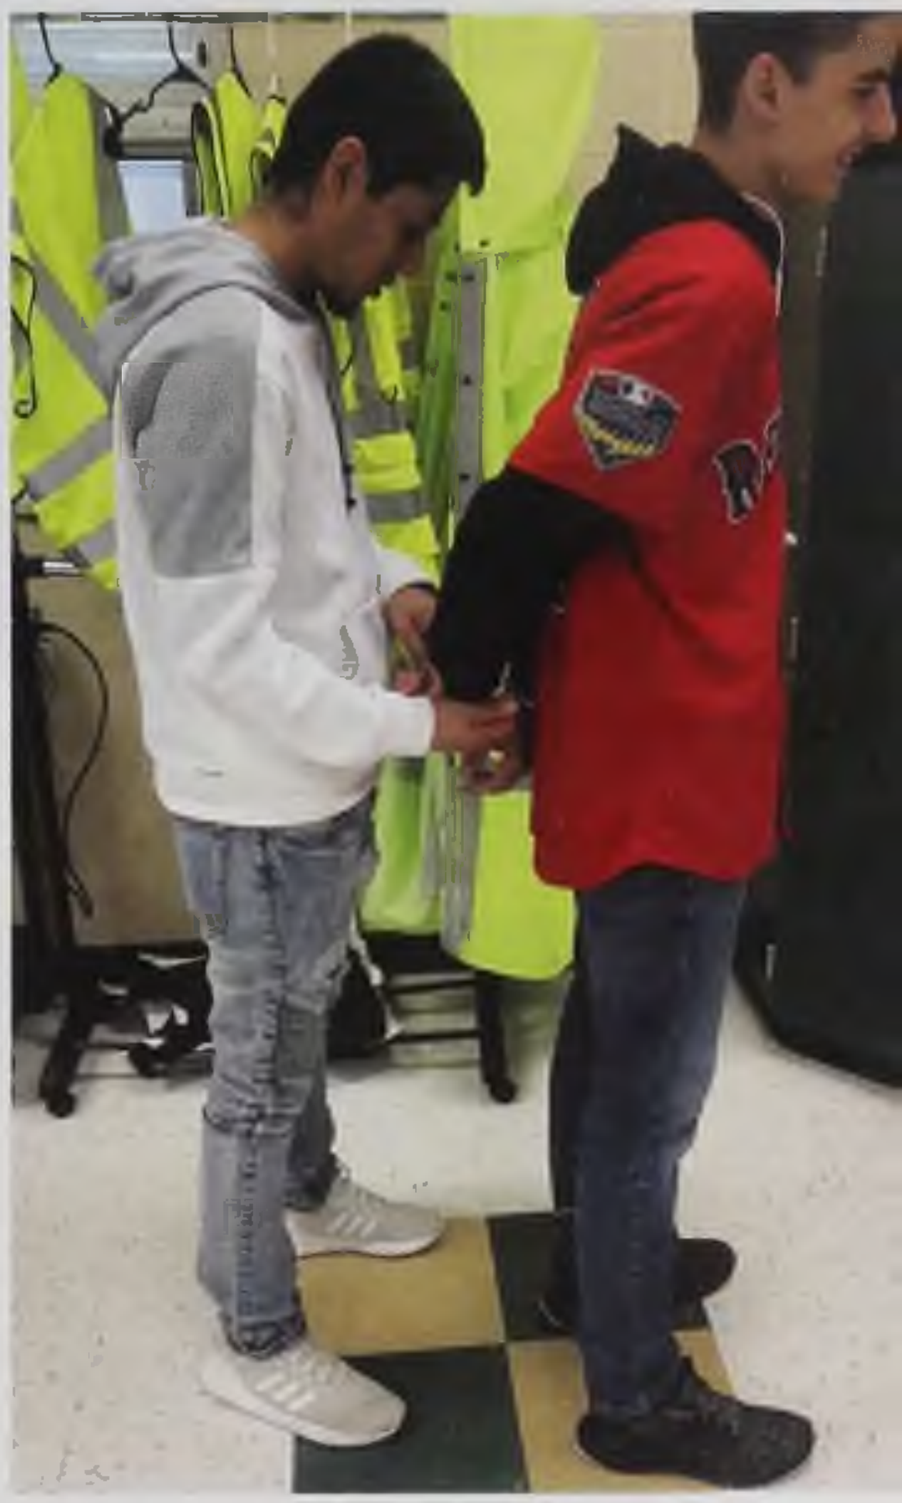
Criminal Justice

Although these students can not pull you over, arrest you or issue you an official citation; they are learning the ideology behind the principles of Criminal Justice. The following students have a duty to enforce safety and guidelines around Lowell High School. Former and present-day officer Conover displays great teaching techniques to educate his students to comprehend the laws and responsibilities to being a police officer. Though out this course students are taught various crime situations and solutions for 'crime scene' like scenarios, issue parking violation citations to the students parking on school grounds and observe situations they may occur throughout their lives.

LHS Law Enforcement Classes

LHS Law Enforcement students are gaining real world experience and engaging external stakeholders from the Law Enforcement Community.
Yesterday, Chief Dan Ball from the Winfield Police Department spoke to the students regarding Law Enforcement. Today, Officer Burkus gave the students a tour of his squad car and fielded questions from them. Active participation in both classes was excellent!





Agriculture

Get ready to get your hands dirty

At the Lowell High School, Horticulture, Natural Resources and Landscaping are a few of many classes that are available for students to take. Each class has there own priorities, but there all drawn together thanks to Mr. Garling.

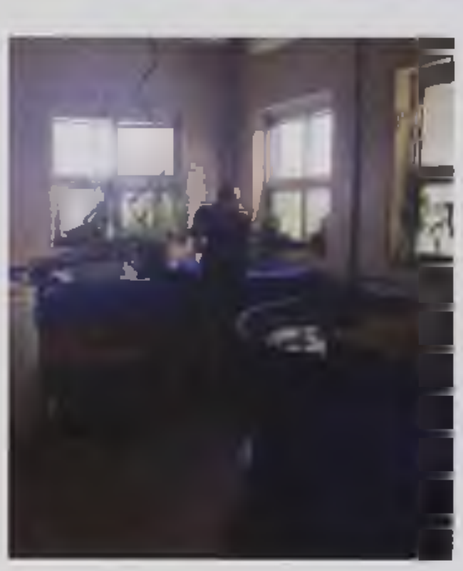
From many different colors to types of flower, the Horticulture is having flowers donated to them to be reused for something beautiful that they can spread around the school.

Lauren Pratt (12) and Emma Hutchinson (11) exploring the green house and what plants Mr.Garling has his students growing at the time. The classmates are growing poinsettias, which in late December will be bloomed into vibrate red and white beautiful flowers. They are both excited to be able to witness such extraordinary flowers grow from little seed to beautiful flowers.

This is one of Mr. Garlings many extra storage space he has. This rooms main focus is for Horticulture students to focus on what flower arrangements they would be doing for that day. This room contains freezers for all the flowers to be stored and ready for his students.

IS THIS CLASS FOR YOU?

One of the may activities involved with horticulture is flower arrangements. Almost every week Mr. Garling has his student prepare arrangements for teachers all around the school.



Emma Hutchinson (11) admiring the different types of fish in the Natural Rescource room. Be careful when you walk in though, if the smell of fish bother you this isn't the class for you.

ne of the classes available at the owell High school is Natural esources. This class is available r students that are interested in ne life of fish, and the eproduction of them. Every day is class devotes there attention the life of the fish. Each student in charge of feeding the fish, ntil there fully grown.

Q&A

Questions answered from Mr. Garling

Why did you get involved with agriculture?
" Well I've always had a love for agriculture, my grandparents lived on a farm which I always spent my summers there."

Which class is your favorite?
" I have a passion for all of them. Natural Resources because your dealing with environmental things, Horticulture because were dealing with new things every day. Landscaping because it's a whole new atmosphere."

HEALTH CAREERS

By: Emilia Goreski & Allion Bishop

For the students that are interested in going into a medical profession after high school, it is highly encouraged to join the CNA Health Careers class. This is a full year class that prepares students to get their CNA licenses and put in their hours for clinicals at Lowell Health Care and Cedar Creek nursing homes. For most, this step is the very beginning to their nursing/doctor career.

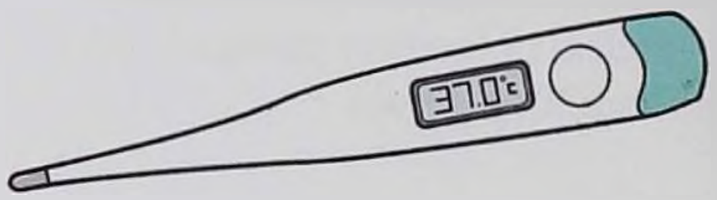
Q&A with Amy Alessi

Can you give us an overview of the class?

The CNA class is a 4 block course where we explore a number of health related careers, learn entry level skills for a certified nursing assistant, and medical terminology. We also learn resident care procedures as apart of the Nurses Aide curriculum and complete 80 hours of clinical experience at mainly a nursing home, but there's other clinical sites we can go to as well, such as a vet, physical therapy places, and the school nurse.

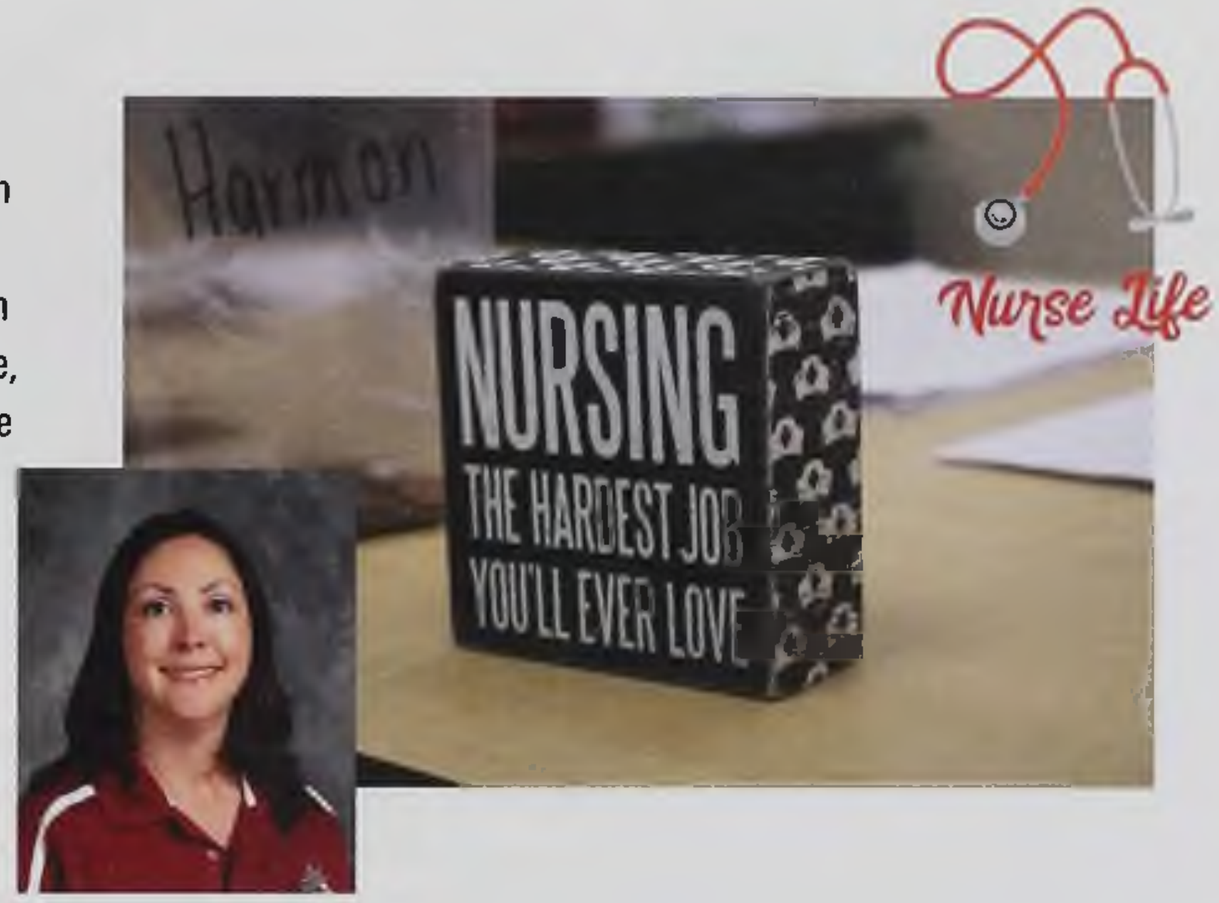
What was your experience like in this class?

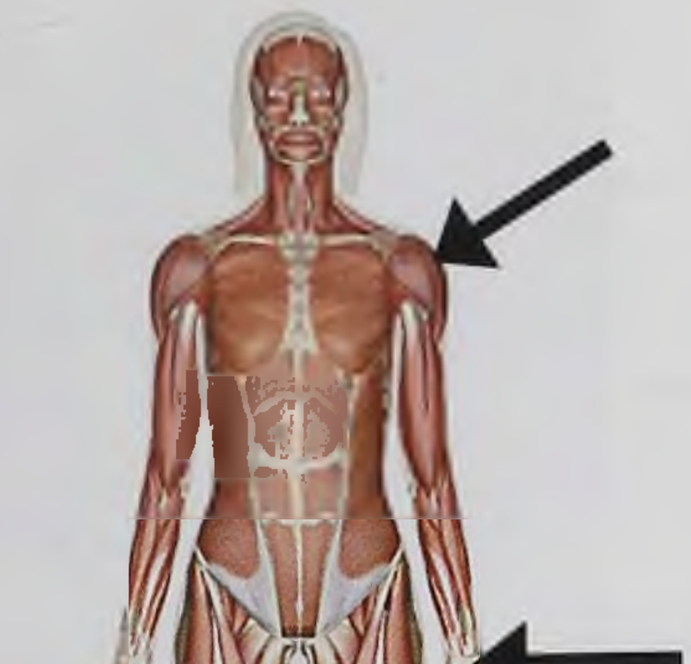
I absolutely love the class! I'm a premed student, aspiring surgeon, and this is an amazing way to get a head start in the medical field! I also have a significant advantage over my other med-school competitors, and have learned so much about a diversity of medical specialties!



MRS. HARMON

This school year the Anatomy and Health Science courses got a fresh start with new teacher Mrs. Harmon. She is all about teaching the students what they need to know in order to continue successfully in the medical field or nursing. Before teaching she was a surgical nurse, and an elementary school nurse! She is one of the hidden gems of the school, and a great mentor to the students.





LHS offers an anatomy course that gives students who want to go into the medical field a taste of what the basic dynamics are like. This class is combined within a lecture/coursework based learning style. The students study bone structure, tissues, and all body organs on an in depth level.

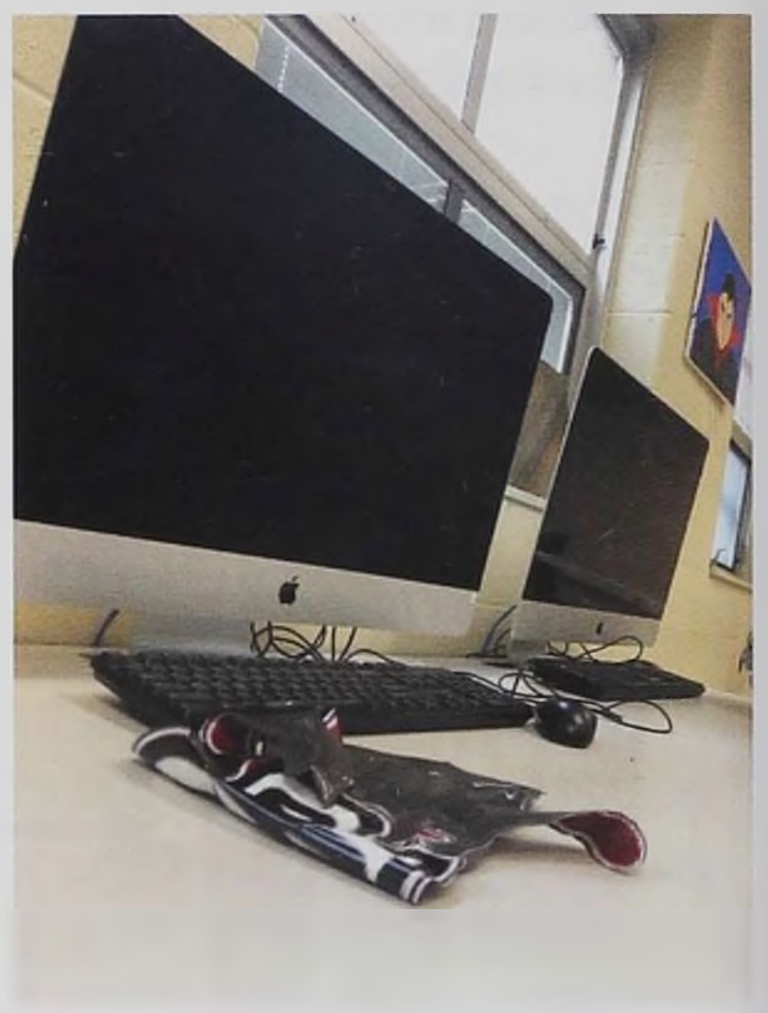
GRAPHIC DESIGN

Graphic Design is so much more then just working on a computer! It takes hard work, and even harder concentration. The Graphic Design program is welcome for any student to take! It's all about creating visual concepts, by hand and bringing it to life with computer softwares, such as Adobe, to either communicate ideas that inspire, inform, and that even captivate other people. Through out the year, you will learn several things, while having fun. It's about different ways of digitally creating ideas: designing shirts to even banners. Mr. Delgado's plan for every class is to help teach how to communicate with other people, and how to use adobe softwares for projects.

Logan French (12), is hard at work on his design. Look at that concentration!

True length!Sydney Siedentopf (11) is working on a logo/poster for graphic design. Such amazing concentration.



Q&A

Tyler Jinks (12):

What would you say some struggles are with Graphic Design?

Just the constant projects that are coming through. You need to learn how to manage time for each project so that you don't miss a project or fall behind.

What is your favorite piece of equipment?

Favorite piece of equipment is Adobe Illustrator because its the easy piece to use and get projects done that are coming through the school or RDN.

What career do you plan on going into?

Computer Informatics Sciences.

What is your favorite project you have done so far?

ReCreating a cartoon version of your favorite athlete because it was a nice intro to the class and really showed you what the class was about.

How long have you been taking these kind of courses?

Since my Sophomore year, so 3 years.

Q&A

Chris Breault (12):

What would you say some struggles are with Graphic Design? Why?

Some struggles are that it is a learn as you go class. What I mean by that is you can come in knowing nothing and once you start doing projects you pick up some skills and then you can use them on your next project. This can be hard because you are trying to learn while trying to come up with a design for someone and it can be frustrating because they might not like the design and you need to change it but it all help you in the long run teaching you how to adapt to peoples design styles.

What is your favorite piece of equipment? Why?

My favorite piece of equipment is our laptops. I really like using our laptops instead of the big mac computers because you can bring these home to work and finish your design.

What career do you plan on going into?

I would like to go into graphic design but if things do not work out I would like to become a firefighter. Even if I do not go down the graphic design path I would still like to do it as a side job.

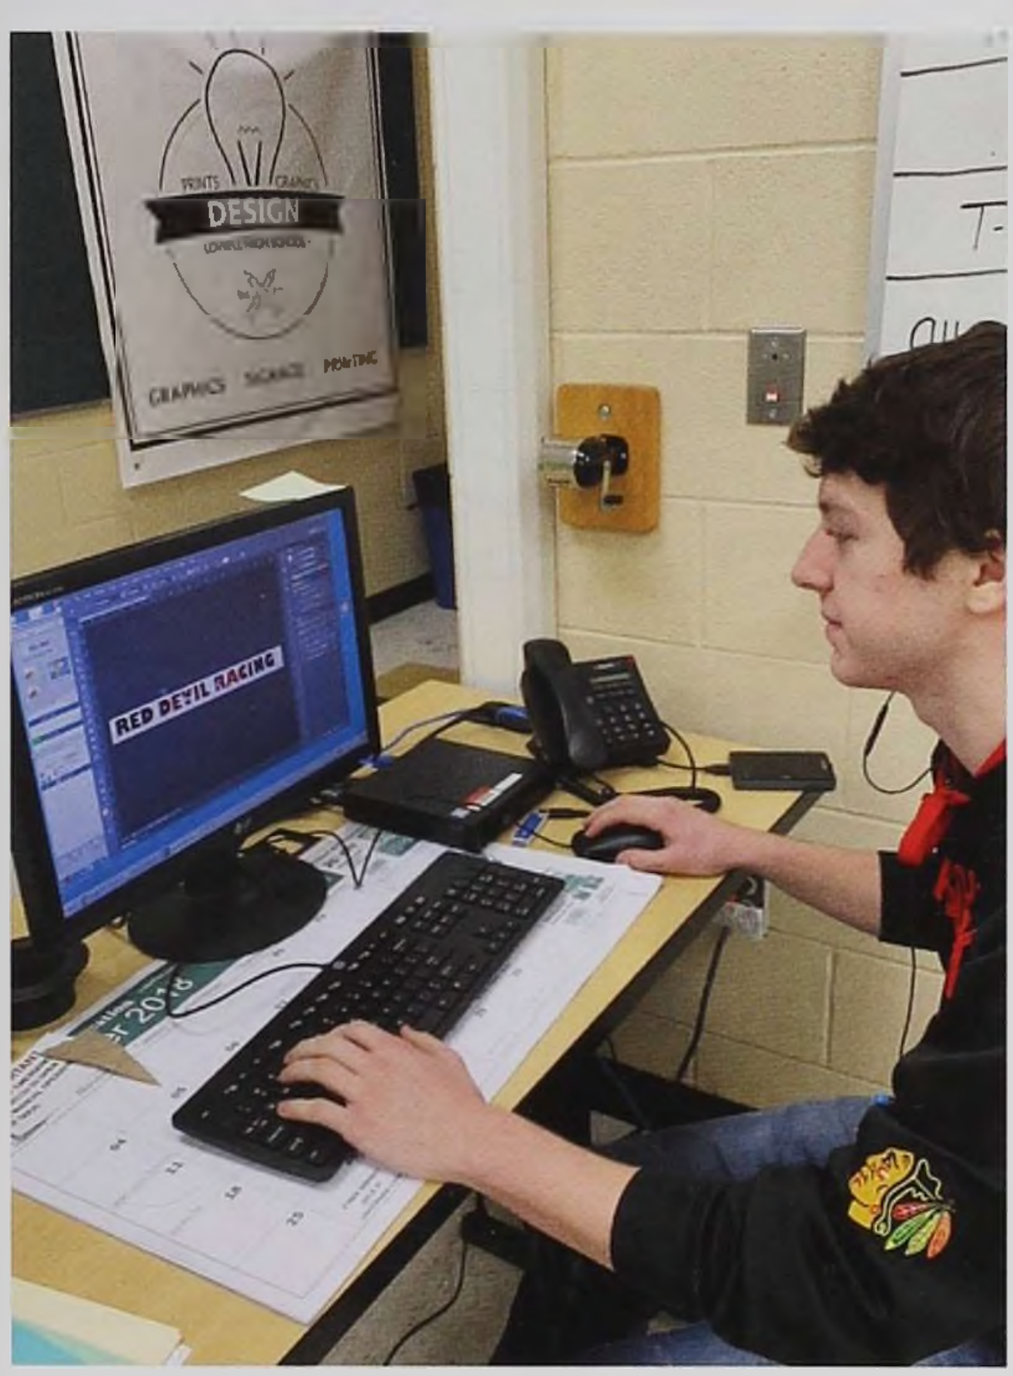
What is your favorite project you have done so far? Why?

st the designs I do for fun because I am doing it for myself and I am able to have complete control over what I want the design to look like.

How long have you been taking these kind of courses?

This is my 3rd year in the class.

Poking holes! A student within the graphic design course is working on a banner. They are all such hard workers!



Hard at work! Chris Breault (12), is hard at work with his project. Look at that concentration!

Raise your voice

They sing, they dance and they sight read. There's nothing these choir students can't do.
A talented group of dedicated individuals come together each and every day to practice at an amazing skill they acquire. The choir students at Lowell High school have been working to perfect their voices with the help of Mrs. Rickaby, the Lowell High school choir director.
Each class is filled with such artistic people, sharing the creativity they have with one another to create such a wonderful group. They all have such a unique voice, not one sounds the same but when they all mix together it makes such a beautiful sound that echo's throughout any room.

Students in premier choir begin to sing and play instrument's and they perform one of their best songs yet!

The ladies of debutantes sing their hearts out as they perform The Mouse Madrigal!

Sophmore Lexi Luna singing a solo part along with the Accent Choir.

Junior Kiera Brummet preforms her solo for the crowd full of supportive parents!

This mixed choir group is showing off their amazing vocal skills as they perform at their latest concert.

Seniors Jordan Harris, Matt Iwinski, junior Blake Devalk and sophomore John Yelkick sing loud and proudly as a quartet group!

This group of premier students express their enthusiasm with singing one of their final songs!

Show Choir

Show choir, a wonderful after school activity that welcomes everyone! No matter what their voices sound like. They sped hours perfecting their vocals, and dance moves. Always ready to perform when needed! Each semester the amount of students change, some come and go but they always come back It is full of students that love to perform, rather it's singing or dancing.

1.) Here we have two students senior Jordan Harris and junior Blake Devalk smiling at the camera before performing on stage.

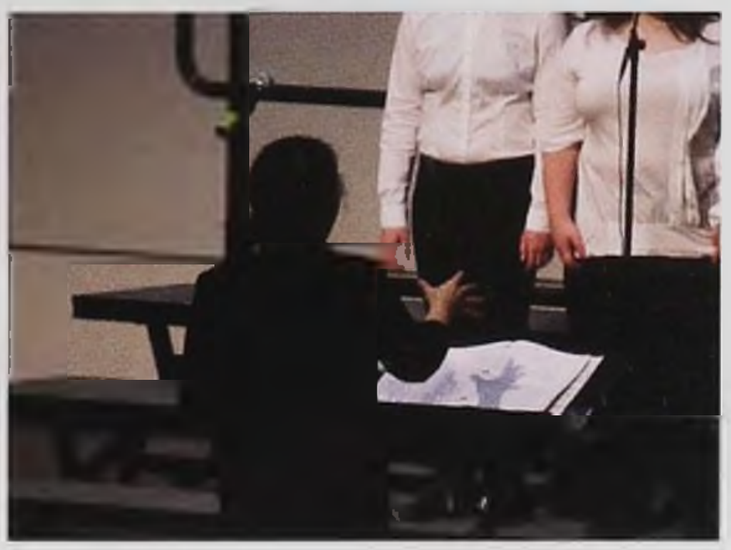
2.) Senior Matt Iwinski performs a solo on stage as he sings with such power in his voice!

3.) During their march concert, this group of accent singers begin to perform their first song, with many more to come afterwards!

4.) This group of debutantes perform loud and proud in front of a full crowd!

The Amazing Lady in Charge

This is Mrs. Rickaby, the director of all four choir classes here at Lowell high school. Along with teaching, she host all the musicals and plays here at the school. She is known to most as a sweet, loving lady who anyone can go to at anytime needed. Each and every one of her students always have a wonderful time going to her class, most would even say it's their favorite class and can't wait for it.



Beginners

Beginners mixed choir is for first year students that have never taken a choir class before. This class allows both males and females to join.

Debutantes

After mixed choir is Debs, an all female choir. This is the first level for a class of all female singers. An audition is required to be apart of this class.

Accents

Accents is the second level for an only female choir. To become part of this class requires an audition, or permission from the instructor.

Premiere

Premiere is the final class available for both male and female choir students. To join this class you must audition, and be proficient in vocal performance.

Dodgeball Braul

By: Jillian Richards

Dodgeball Dodgeball Dodgeball! Making an extreme return, this years Lowell High School Dodgeball tournament ended with a bang bringing a new winning team to the table! This years teachers team took the victory against the one and only middle school team that decided to join us this year. These two teams really progressed throughout the competition and continually showed their skills even when they got tired towards the end. This huge event truly is a staple to the year at Lowell High School. The anticipation is high for the day when Dodgeball Coordinator Mr. Gianotti's voice appeals to the ears of our Lowell High School students over our daily announcements. This is the cue for our many teams in the making to submit their shot to be in the tournament! 48 teams took the courts this year leaving the crowd in awe of all the unseen talent that is popping up in front of them! As the stands fill and teams are eliminated, the competition gets extremely tough but, there can only be one winner!

BASKETBALL 2018-2019

By: Andrew Kish, Nicole Russnak, & Andru Greene.

The Lowell High School basketball team had a very unique season defending, "The Pit" this year. Their regular season record being 11-11 made it a really unexpected outcome going into sectionals. For the first time in forever, they drew the bye for sectionals automatically advancing them straight to the second round, giving them a great advantage. They also succeeded in their battle against the East Chicago Cardinals for the first time ever in school history postseason. For the second time ever since 1993, the boys made it to the sectional championship, but due to unfortunate events, there season just fell short in the Championship against the Munster Mustangs. The boy's had a great season full of many different memories, that not only they will, but their fans will remember as well. From the first free throw of the season to the last dunk, the boys may have had some rough games, but no matter what, they played tough and pulled through all the way to the end. Christopher Mantis (10) sophomore lead the team all year in all categories with Dustin Hudak (12) senior and Adam Edwards (12) senior right behind him. Not forgetting the kids who contributed their hard work and dedication to get those kids there recognition we need to highlight all of them.

Jump Shot Junior 1) Junior Natalie Kotlin lines up for a jump shot with only second to get the ball in the basket! Natalie loves basketball and is a recurring teammate each year! Last Minute Layup 2.) Sophomore Isabella Vasko sneaks in a fast paced last minute layup before the end of the third quarter in one of their first Junior Varsity games! Senior Shooting 3.) Senior Sarah Richardson goes for a layup with other school player trailing behind her. Sarah loves to take these hands on risky shots! True Teammates 4.) Sophomore Katelyn Budz offers a hand to freshman Abigail Porch after a nasty fall on the court earlier that night.. Three Point Gain 5.) Freshman Kaylee Chavez throws a risky three pointer in hopes of bring in some last minute points. Boss Blocking 6.) Freshman Alee Eaker takes a leap of faith hoping to knock the ball out of the opposing teams hands before they reach half court. Being her first year, Alee shows a great charisma that not all first year girls basketball players have! Eye On The Ball 7.) Varsity Player Kaylee Chavez keeps her eye on the ball and her guard up awaiting the opposite teams next move.

Dribbling Lady Devils

"Hard work beats talent when talent fails to work hard!"

The Lowell High School Girls Basketball Team never fails to impress! Every year these rowdy girls pack the stands for every game, home or away! The team continues to grow more and more every year not just in their relationships, but in their skills as well. They really make coming to a Lowell High School basketball game special! This years team was very diverse, having many different grade levels on Varsity and Junior Varsity level. This made games very interesting to watch and really showed off the teams skills! Personally, this team always has been a family like group. They always take care of each other and under the guidance of Coach Chavez, the girls always play to their maximum. This is shown in the multiple hour practices after school and always in their games. Some might say they are just a team, but they are more than that. They really are a true family in the making.

Down the Court 8.) Senior Catlyn Mulligan makes her way down the court preparing for a pass to an open teammate. Catlyn has been in basketball for multiple years of her high school career and has improved more and more as her last high school basketball season comes to an end. First Year Freshman 9.) Freshman Kahlan Krucina goes for a rebound after a missed shot by the other team. Krucina has worked hard all season to earn her spot being one of only 4 freshman on the varsity team!

Shoot Your Shot 10.) Junior Danielle Collins plants her feet preparing to shoot her shot. Danielle has worked as hard as she can to build a great team bond and remain a role model for younger teammates! Free Throw Feeling 11.) Junior Abby Lewandowski mentally prepares to take this free throw shot after a rough foul giving her and the Red Devils and advantage. Each year Abby works to block out the noise given every chance she can to make her mark!

Swimming in the Fast Lane

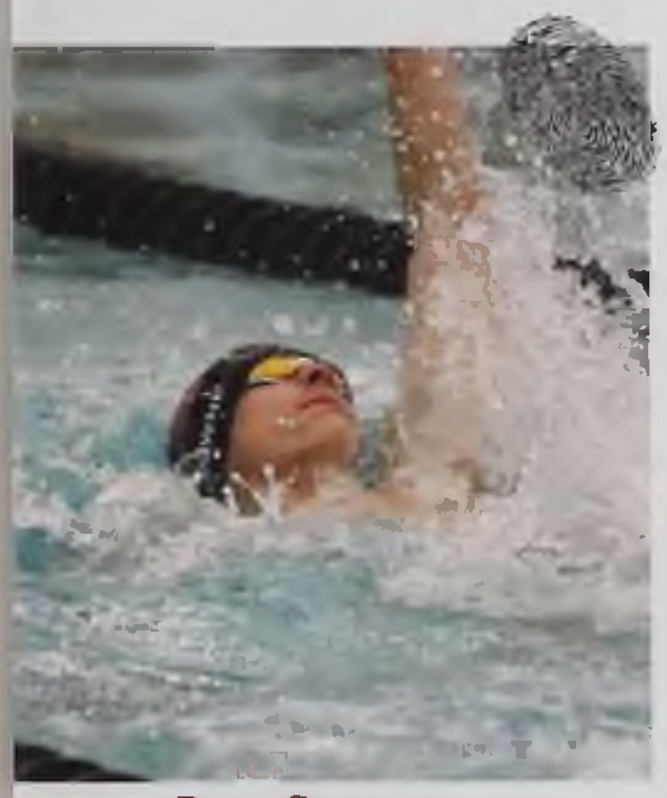
By: Emily Salomon and Carolyn Lane

We all think of swimming as a fun activity we do whether it's having a pool day or taking a swim in the ocean. But for the Lowell Red Devil swim team, the sport is much more than that. The athletes are very hardworking and motivated to maintain their best ability to accomplish their personal skills. The team makes sure to stay in shape, and are ready to take on any school in a swim meet. The boys all attend early morning practice, go to weight lifting, as well as after school practice or a meet. Swimming many miles and doing many relays can be exhausting but the swimmers are dedicated to their passion of swimming. The team is stronger than they ever been before, and each individual strives with devotion to improve their personal techniques to take on the season.

Take a Deep Breath 1.) Jackson Skinner (9) is trying out a new stroke in this meet. He did an outstanding job even though he usually does backstroke. Cool By the Pool 2.) Some of the swimmers are getting ready to jump into the pool and compete. They dived into the water and swam as fast as they could.

Breathe In 3.) Payton Lachcik (10) is doing the breaststroke the best he can. He swam in the meet against Morton and North Newton High School. Pooling Through 4.) Gage Torres (12) is swimming at the meet while doing the breaststroke. He did an amazing job while he participated in the meet. Going the Distance 5.) Alexander Huseman (12) is doing the backstroke during his meet. Swimming is one of his biggest passions. Wet N' Wild 6.) Jack Hannon (9) is diving off of the block into the water. Jumping into the water and swimming as fast as he can to achieve the goal.

Senior Shoutouts



Rory Browne

Do you plan on swimming after High School? If so, where at?
"No, I do not plan on swimming after high school."

What has inspired you to get into your passion of swimming?
"Initialing I was trying out for the boys freshmen basketball team, but I ended up losing interest in the sport. So, I began looking for a new winter sport and came across swimming due to a couple of friends being on the team."

How has swimming impacted you as an individual?
"Swimming has impacted my life in many ways. Not only did it help me develop self discipline and mental toughness. But, it also made me into the well rounded individual I am today."

Christopher Breault

Do you plan on diving after High School? If so, where at?
"I'm undecided if I'm going to choose college for my after high school plans, but if I do attend a university, I would like to further my diving career."

Since this is your second year diving, what inspired you to join the team and what made you want to continue for your senior year?
"I was inspired by Nathan Cook, who was a former Lowell Red Devil swimmer, to join the diving team. As well, I've had a passion for flips, so I figured that this sport would have my hobbies combine into something I'd enjoy."

How has diving impacted you as an individual?
"As an individual, I feel like diving has made me into an overall better person since it keeps me going and motivated."

A Season of Splash

By: Jillian Richards

Whether its taking a plunge off the the block for a quick paced race that goes by in an instant, a slowed longer race that takes lots of endurance and strength, or a plunge from a diving board filled with twists, flips, and turns, the Lowell High School girls swim team has shown plenty of individuality and diversity this season. This is shown merely by the differences in the preferred races each likes to swim. Though this team has their differences, strengths, and weaknesses, no matter what they always treat each other like family. Outside of swimming, these girls are actually friends that have classes together and enjoy occasionally hanging out at local town spots for morning shakes or after school snacks! This is needed after and before the intense season that these girls are put through! I have never seen a more hardworking and dedicated group of girls that put in valid efforts to make their season great to go through and watch! This season truly was one of the most amazing transitions I have seen yet! The girls were victorious for most meets and adapted well to anything that the (newly appointed girls coach) Nick Schuyler threw at them! Some said it was very different having him as the girls and the boys coach now but, the change can truly be seen through how hard the girls worked to present a exemplary season to the table!

Fierce Freshman 1.) 1st year swimmer Kara Egnatz (9) swims her first 500 race of the season! Kara is normally a sprinter but she truly enjoys trying everything! Backstroke Beast 2.) Swimmer, Brooke Otis (11) is rounding the last 25 of her 100 backstroke race! She loves backstroke and is really passionate about it! Home at Last 3.) Elizabeth Vaught (11) swims her heart out in their second to last home meet against the Hobart Brickies! Soothing Swimming 4.) Junior Rayanne Janota calms her mind as she smoothly swims her second to last backstroke race of the season! Sophomore Strength 5.) Sophomore, Leah Sodo, swims her very first 100 butterfly race of season proving her strength. She is now officially swimming it at sectionals! Troublsom Two 6.) Team buddies, Maitlynd Plants and Isabella Tieri, pose for a pre-meet picture preparing to swim off some steam! Second Year Success 7.) Second year swimmer Isabella Tieri counts up the 50s as swimmer Maitlynd Plants rounds the midway mark of the 500 race! Sprinting Senior 8.) Senior, Anabel Stein, rushes down the lane fastly freestyling! She loves being a sprinter and always enjoys high speeds in the water.

Breaststroke Beauty 9.) Being only her third official time swimming breaststroke at a meet, Freshman Taryn Eastling gives it her ending the race with a new PR! Fluid Flowing 10.) Being her third year swimming, Junior Morgan Blank works to perfect her breaststroke leaving the crowd in awe of her fluidity in the water! Victorious Invite 11.) The Lowell High School Girl Swim Team poses after their first official invite, 1st place win of the season. Each person contributed to this win by taking majority of 1st place wins in most of the events! Devil Diving 12.) 1st year girl diver, Isabella Spagnola, kicks of her last home meet of the season ending her set of dives with her back one! First Meet Frieghts 13.) Two of our Lowell High School divers Jillian Richards and Isabella Spagnola pose on picture day with Freshman Citlaly Gallardo for a friend photo!

"If it's important to you, you will find a way. If not, you will find an excuse."

Senior Shoutout

Anabel Stein

Quoted from Anabel Stein, "Swimming is a great sport to help prepare you for the real world. You build the mentality that even if you don't want to wake up at five in the morning you still have to put the work in, nobody is going to wait on you to get out of bed. You learn to push past a mental block and also build great character. Swimming is a very rewarding sport. As my last year of swimming quickly comes to a close I am so thankful to have such an amazing coach to lead me to the finish line. Coach Schuyler always believes in me and motivates me to see my true potential. As much as Ive always dreaded long, vigorous practices, my ten year career is up and I am going to miss this sport more than anything. It has shaped me into the person I am today."

Anabel Plans to attend Purdue NorthWest to receive a bachelors degree in Elementary Education!

"She is one of the most kind hearted people I have ever met!"

"She's a hard worker who never gives up and is an awesome teammate who's always supporting everyone!"

Get On The Mat!

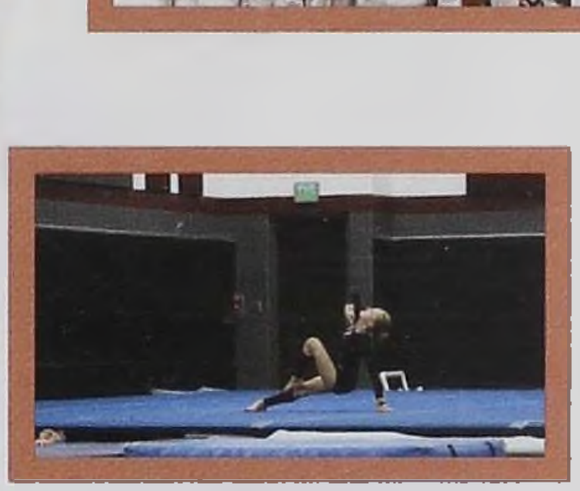
By: Jillian Scott, Jillian Williams, Kelsey Smock, and Kara Katic

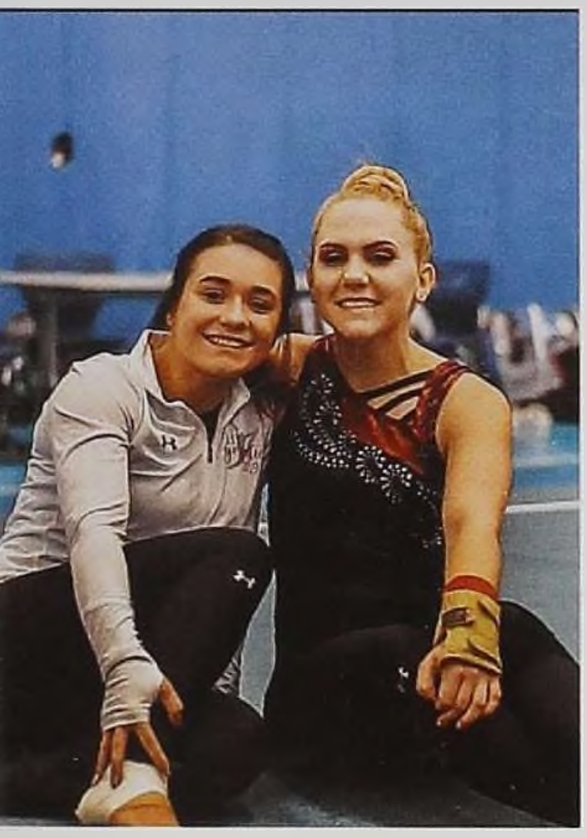
Though many sports require hard work, drive and tenacity, ask any wrestler at LHS and they will tell you wearing a Red Devil singlet means taking work outs to the next level. These students work very hard to accomplish individual goals to strive to become the best. Whether it is counting calories at lunch, pumping iron in the weight room or honing their technique on the mat, wrestlers strive for greatness every day of the week. Senior, Chandler Austgen says, "Can't coach heart, and you have to hit the Oklahoma...Moe Howard." On or off the mat, this group of young men know how important it is to be a family.

Flipping Through the Year

By: Lindsey Chraponski
and Nicole Rusnak

Although gymnastics may look fun and easy, these girls will tell you it is not at all what it seems. The girls gymnastics team this year overcame a lot of different challenges. From not having enough girls on the team to be scored as a team to the amount of injuries they had to push through to make it to there ultimate goal of sectionals was a tough road. These girls were able to tape up there rips, brace there ankles, and hold up their smiles to persevere through another successful year. They overall had a pretty good season and faced some tough teams. They did their best to come together as one and get the best scores they could to be able to compete with these schools with teams of over 20 girls. They can not wait to get back in and start conditioning to start their journey thought next season.





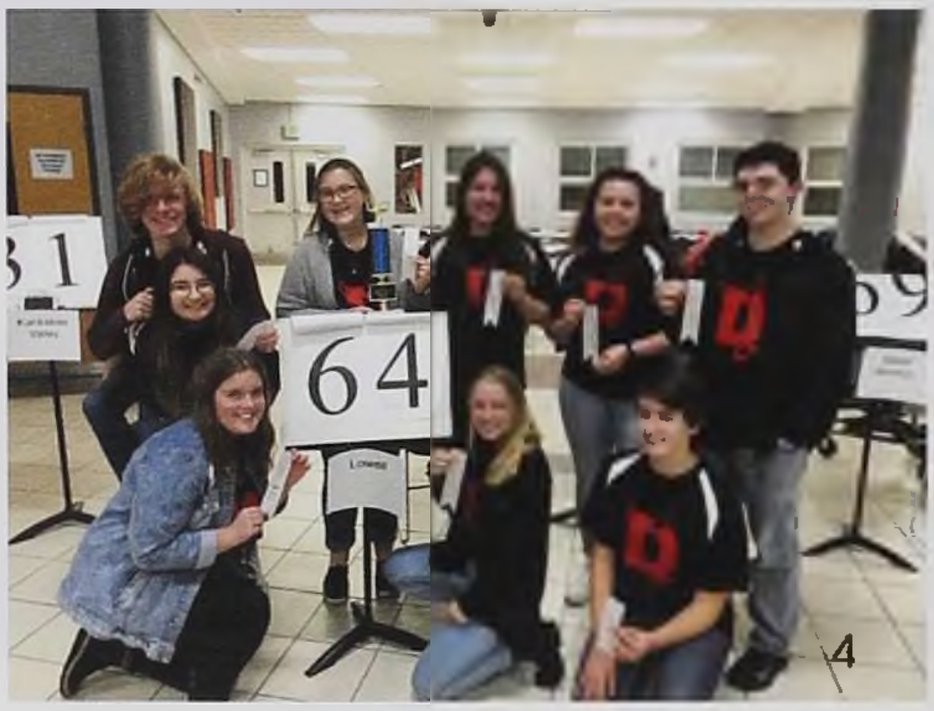
Senior Highlight

Our seniors Katelyn Ashe and Kiara Hubster-Robertson had a successful high school gymnastics carrier. Although Kiara did not join the high school team until her sophomore year and Katelyn joined her junior year both girls were awesome leaders and blended the team as one as if they have been there forever. Being a crucial part to there team they were able to keep there teammates level headed, dedicated and to teach them to not give up. They made the team feel like a family and took on that big sister role to these girls and were able to not only better themselves in gymnastics during there last year, but they were able work on themselves and gain more than athleticism from this sport and team.

Decathlon

By: Hannah Crouch

The Decathlon team practices from August to February, competing in 2 invitationals, 1 regional and 1 state competition every year. The members of the team are tasked with reading and studying 7 manuals over the various subjects including Economics, Math, English, Music, History, Science, and Art. Students on the team are also tasked with giving a 3 minute long speech of any topic of their choosing, writing an essay, and participating in an interview. To anyone else, this would sound crazy, but to a Decathlete, its family. When asked why she joined decathlon Hannah Crouch (12) had this to say "I joined Decathlon because I knew that it would allow me learn untraditional topics outside of school. I also knew that it would be an experience like no other".



1) Saved by the Spell: The 2019 Spellbowl team celebrates their first place win. They earned 64 points, ultimately winning the invitational competition.

Spell

Students on the Spellbowl team studied 2585 words, varying from 'unruly' to 'vox populi'.When asked what his favorite memory from this season was, Devin Hicks (10) had this to say "My favorite memory of spell bowl were the practices. I really enjoyed getting the chance to bond with people I hadn't known before, it made learning new words fun".

Super bowl

The Superbowl teams consists of students competing in their choice of either English, Science, Fine Arts, Math, and Social Studies. This year, students had to study the fertile crescent. They met at practices nearly every week to ensure that they are prepared for invites. Those in super bowl dedicate their time and effort into learning about new topics every year. This year the Super bowl participants won the River Forest Invite in March, and placed first in Interdisciplinary, Science, English, Math and Social Studies. Overall, this year has been very rewarding for the LHS Aademic Superbowl teams.

Red Devil Spotlight

Amy Alessi

Lowell High School Senior Class of 2019

Future Plans

Amy plans to attend Depaul University in the fall to major in Health Science. Her goal is to continue her education in pre-med to become a surgeon.

An Amazing Opportunity

Amy recently found out that she earned a Fellowship in Greece during the summer of 2019. She will spend three weeks in Greece shadowing a surgeon and exploring Greece! She hopes to be able to shadow a cardiothoracic surgeon during the fellowship.

Passion

Amy has always had an inate desire to be a doctor. She aspires to be a pioneer in medicine and travel the world serving others.

While at LHS, Amy has taken Biomedical Science, Anatomy & Physiology, and other science courses. She is currently in the Health Science Education program- which she loves!

What do you love most about LHS?

"I love that the goal has always been that students leave here as a graduate ready for post secondary education."

WE ARE LHS

Red Devil Spotlight

Margaret Stein

Lowell High School Senior Class of 2019

Future Plans

Margaret plans to attend Ball State University in the Fall and major in Earth Space Science Education with a minor in Journalism.

Current Involvements & Hobbies

- Academic Super Bowl
- Athletic Training
- National Honor Society
- Theater
- Environmental Club
- Tennis

Passion

Maggie has always had a desire to help others. Ever since she was little, she planned to go into the medical field. However, this year she changed her mind and realized she wants to teach junior high science. She has a love for science and the STEM field and knows that kids often shy away from STEM. Her hope is to share her passion of STEM with junior high age students so that they will explore a future in STEM.

What do you love most about LHS?

"I have been involved in so much and had so many opportunities. I love that we have so many chances and college and career readiness options- It's been helpful."

Lauren Ritter

Lowell High School Senior Class of 2019

Future Plans

Lauren plans to attend Columbia College in Chicago to major in Production and Film Making with a minor in Acting.

Current Involvements & Hobbies

- Theater- Lauren was in both productions this year
- Radio & TV Production Student

Passion

Ever since Lauren was in 1st grade, she has had a passion for acting and film. Her debut on stage was Cinderella, where she was a mouse in the ensemble, and she knew at that time that this was her calling. Lauren has been invovled in both plays this year at LHS and is also dedicated to her Radio and TV course where she works countless hours learning production and sound design. She credits Mr. McLindon for helping grow her love for sound design and stated that Mr. McLindon has been an amazing teacher and encouraged her, even when things were difficult. Lauren looks forward to a career in the arts where she can think outside of the box & her creativity can shine!

What do you love most about LHS?

"I love the camaraderie! I have met so many fun people. Teachers like Mr. Charpentier and Mr. Matt McLindon have made my time in high school so much easier!"

Claire Mitsch

Lowell High School Senior Class of 2019

Future Plans

Claire plans to join the Pipe Fitters Union after high school. This year, she has been job shadowing at Graycor Industrial in Portage and has accepted a position at Graycor after graduation. She hopes to start an apprenticeship with the Pipe Fitters Union shortly after.

Current Involvements & Hobbies

- Cross Country
- Track
- Swim Manager
- Auto & Welding

Passion

The Red Devil Trades has been an integral part of Claire's senior year at LHS. She is truly passionate about welding and extremely driven to make welding her future. Through her job shadowing experience at Graycor, welding courses at LHS, and encouragement from staff, she has found her nitch and looks forward to a future in the Pipe Fitters Union.

What do you love most about LHS?

ove the teachers. They are helpful & are motivated to help you succeed. I am especially grateful for Wilson and Mr. Woodbury. ıey have helped me so much th my plans for the future."

Red Devil Spotlight

Liam Collins

Lowell High School Senior
Class of 2019

Future Plans
Liam plans to attend college to major in Nursing.

Current Involvements
- ★ Academic Decathlon
- ★ Academic Superbowl
- ★ Red Devil Mentoring
- ★ Theater
- ★ STAND

Currently, Liam is preparing for his role in the fall play at LHS! The play opens at the beginning of November!

Passion
Liam has a passion for helping others- especially those with special needs. He spent the past two summers volunteering as a camp counselor for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). While there, he spent an entire week as a mentor. He is also currently coaching a Special Olympics basketball team in the area.

What do you love most about LHS?

"The environment- everyone here is positive. I could walk up to anyone and say Hi. Also, every teacher I've had has made an impact on me. It's clear they really care about their students."

Red Devil Spotlight

Emilia Goreski

Lowell High School Senior
Class of 2019

Future Plans
Emilia plans to attend either IUPUI, IUN or IUB to major in Biology. She will then continue her education in the dental field to become an orthodontist.

Current Involvements & Hobbies
- ★ Red Devil Peer Mentoring
- ★ Baking
- ★ National Honor Society
- ★ Church Functions

Emilia is extremely involved in the Red Devil Mentoring Program and truly enjoys the experiences she has had participating!

Passion
Emilia is involved in a variety of activities where she helps other people. Most recently, she helped to organize a fundraiser with her church to raise money for breast cancer. This event raised over $11,000 which was all donated to an amazing cause!

What do you love most about LHS?

"I love everything! I love the Guidance Department. Everyone at LHS is so nice and helpful, and the teachers are all so friendly!"

Cameron Britton

We are very proud of the young man you've become. You have a generous heart and have accomplished so much. You have a bright future ahead.
We love you!

Letter From the EDITORS

This is my second year of participating in the class of Yearbook with many of new people joining to help create this book. Coming from a small class last year, we knew that this book would be developed with everyone's creativeness. We all worked hard to create this year's yearbook so it would be memorable for all the students of Lowell High School to look back at. The theme of this year's book was "Leave Your Mark" which was to include and involve each student. With all the hard work and time put into this book, the whole staff hopes you enjoy.

Spring To Life!

By: Emily Salomon

Spring break is the time where every student has a taste of what summer feels like. Although it's colder than what everyone expected, students of LHS make the most of this long week, fun. Many students go on tropical trips, or have relaxing nights with their friends. Many adventures and memories are created during this time that will last forever. Bring on summer!

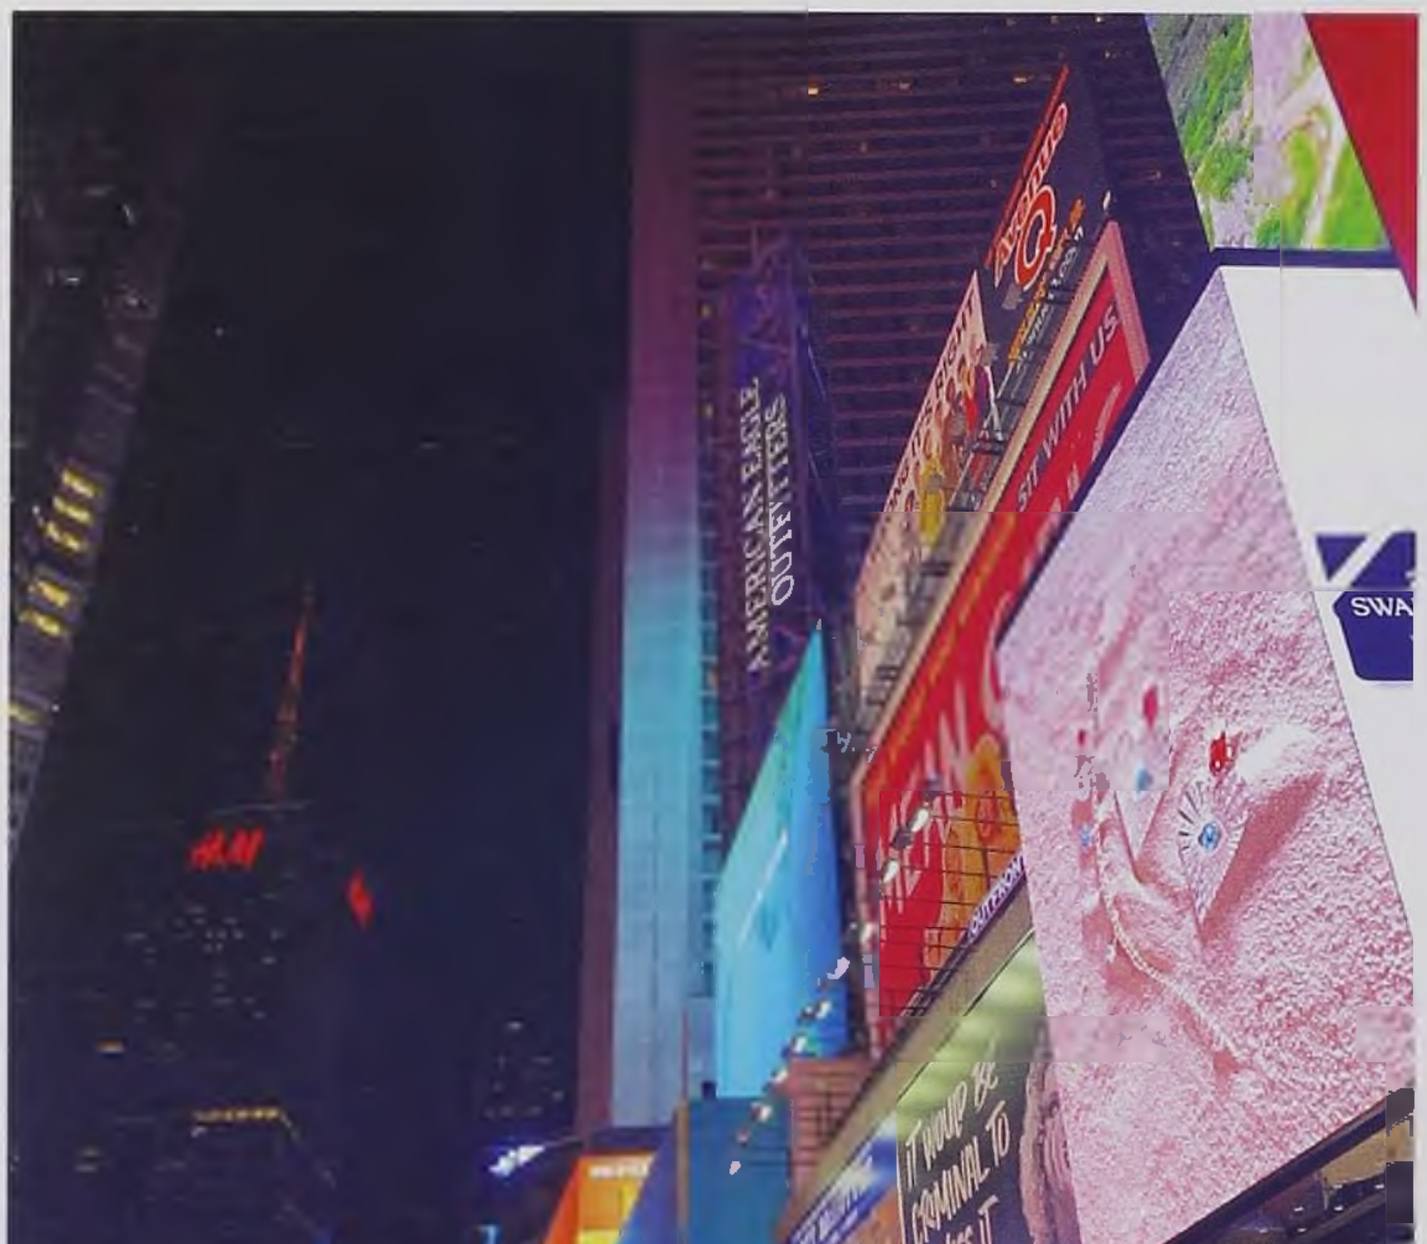
THE BIG APPLE



Students at Lowell High School got an eye changing experience to take a trip to the Big Apple for the 2019 spring break trip. The students got to see landmarks that people travel across the globe to see. From walking through Ground Zero, to standing on the very top of the Empire State Building, and the mesmerizing, gorgeous art in the Metropolitan Museum, this four day trip is something that these students will never forget.

BROADWAY

The students got an amazing chance to see a Broadway Show! They got to watch "The Cher Show." The two and a half hour show summarized the iconic Cher's life from childhood to where she is today and how she obtained her fame...and glamour of course!

INCLUSION IS THE SOLUTION

By: Allison Suarez

It's 6:30 pm on Tuesday, March 13th: the bleachers are full, the Pit is radiating nothing but pure pride, the game has just begun. 2019's Special Olympics Basketball Game marked its 5th year of promoting inclusion and ending discrimination to people with intellectual disabilities and has become a beloved tradition here at Lowell High School. Although Crown Point is one of Lowell's biggest rivals, there was no bad blood here. Students, parents, and faculty showed their wholehearted support as they cheered on the players and donned this year's Special Olympics slogan "Blending Together as 1; Inclusion is the Solution."

ONCE UPON A PROM

By: Allison Suarez

Once upon a prom, in our very own town, there was a banquet hall overflowing with suits and gowns. Lowell High School's peer mentor program raised around $2,400 to fund the 6th annual special needs prom. From stepping out of the limo, to laughing, and smiling with friends; peer mentors and attendees alike danced the night away. Before the clock struck midnight, Lake Central's David Triezenberg and our very own Hannah May were crowned king and queen. It was nothing short of a true fairytale.

Lowell's Got Talent

By: Katlyn Hamm, Breanna Fields, and Hannah Crouch

Lowell's Got Talent is a long standing tradition at Lowell High School. This is a showcase where students can show their talents and skills. During this show, students get to go in front of their peers and fellow community members to represent themselves in a competition where only the best win. Between acts, many teachers enjoy coming on stage to show off their talents to the students. Students prepare for weeks to get a slot in this show and to get the chance to have their moment in the spotlight.

The Grand Finale

As a final farewell, Mrs. Pavell and Mr. Wilson performed "I Got You Babe" before they retire this year. Mr. Wilson would like to thank Lowell High School for a lifetime of memories and Mrs. Pavell want everyone to know that she'll miss everything about Lowell High School. Lowell wishes them the best and thanks them for the hard work, time, and dedication that they've put into the school.

A PROMised Time

By: Emily Salomon

Prom is the night that everyone looks forward too throughout the year. Hours of preparation and the hype before the dance, makes everyone more excited for the night to carry on. The theme of the prom was 'Roaring 20's' and the banquet hall was decorated for the amazing night. Hours of dancing with your date and friends, and a delicious dinner beforehand is what make prom so amazing. The last dance of the year, and for some, the last dance of their high school career, went out with a bang and everyone had a fantastic time.

Distance

Tony Gaskins once said "Consistency is the key! If you can't be consistent, then you can't be anything." This is completely true for our Lowell Distance Runners! Without consistency in pace, breathing, or speed, neither the boys or girls distance runners would be able to reach their race goal. Our distance teams run the farthest races and keep the longest breaths in order to steadily run and sprint at the end of their long runs.

Track

Sprinters

The sound of the gun fills the Lowell High School Sprinters ears as they push themselves to their limits racing forward at exhilarating speeds! Both boys and girls sprinters have strong willpower to vigorously shoot forward trying to pass or stay ahead of their opponents. During the season many strong wins have shaped out the team showing the true passion in the sport.

Throwers

On your mark, set, throw! This year, the Lowell boys and girls throwing teams had a great season. Gaining a new coach and many new members, the throwing team has adapted to the change and produced a great season! Many personal records were broken and many new mindsets were gained! Not only do the Lowell Throwers provide great power and spirit to the team, but they also have agility and strength to throw both shot put and discus! Their perseverance is key!

Field

Other

High Jump! Long Jump! Pole Vault! Relays! These events are what make up our field events! Field events are extremely important to heighten the Lowell Track teams score during meets. All events have boys and girls that compete and participate in order to make or break the final outcome. Without them track just wouldn't be the same.

A Grand Slam

By: Andru Green and Adam Morgan

With the new baseball season striking in, the Lowell High School's baseball team is all fired up to give it all they got. The team has had a lot of changes for their new seasons which resulted into a a whole new baseball team. Coach Wong retired the previous season, so there were new coaches for the Varsity team. Coach Bays and Coach Wunsch tried their hardest to train the team for an outstanding season. Although the coach changes, the baseball team played great and got to experience new bonding.

Swing For The Sky

John Alessia (11) helps keep the opposing team from scoring.

Catchin' Flys
Junior Tyler Hamm is ready for the pitch and is determined to help lead his team to victory.

Hat Trick!
Assistant Coach Randy Bays throws his hat in the air as he celebrates a win!

Patience 1) Lindsey Delagdo (10) is playing at short stop, waiting for the ball that is about to get hit. In the Circle 2.) Ashley Martin (10) is eager to throw a strike to the next batter. Preparation 3.) Lilly Biancardi (11) getting ready for the ball to be hit. So much concentration and dedication! No "I" in Team 4.) The infield is gathering together to form a game plan for the inning. What great teamwork! Going. Going. Caught 5.) Ryleigh Marsh (11) kept her spirits high and her glove even higher. Another amazing catch at short stop! Staying Focused 6.) Jillian Scott (12) has so much focus and concentration on the game. She shows a great example of a leader. Senior Season 7.) Jillian Williams (12) and Jillian Scott (12) stand with their coach, Mr. McLindon, in celebration of their senior night. The two have accomplished many great achievements throughout these past 4 years and are getting recognized for it.

Swinging Into season

When stepping foot onto the dirty fields, several opportunities open up for each and every player. To them, softball isn't just about winning. It is also about the lessons gained on and off the field, that every girl can take away from it. Over the past few seasons, this team has focused on building up their program to make it the best it could possibly be, and step by step, they are doing just that. Head Coach, Mike McLindon, plans to keep this program evolving. Teaching them not only to be good softball players but making them, over all, a better person. These young ladies do not only represent the Lowell Softball team, they represent the town of Lowell, itself. This takes a lot of commitment and hard work that these young ladies are happily willing to contribute to. The team was overlooked at the start of the season, but they didn't let that get to their heads. They played as a team and surprised everyone. Through it all, they worked hard at practice and even harder at games.

IN THE HALLS

Refuse To Lose

The Girl's Lowell Tennis team is a very motivated group of girls. All of the players are dedicated to the game and matches, and making sure to learn new techniques at their practices. The Red Devil Tennis team is always striving to become better, they will practice in the cold, and participate in their matches with all they have. The team is very close with their coach, Mr. Hudak who makes the team work hard to win the season. The girls and the coach all work hard to make the season become outstanding and give the best they got.

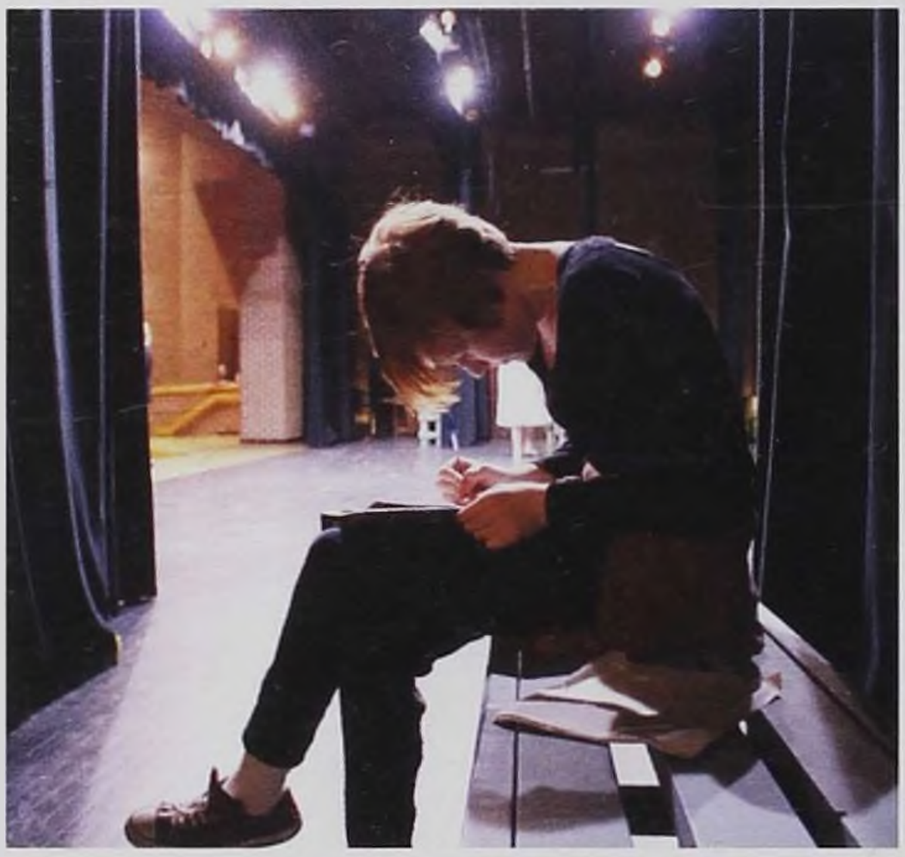
BYE BYE BIRDIE

By: Breanna Fields and Katlyn Hamm



The spring musical is the last hurrah of the school year for the theater department. 'Bye Bye Birdie' was this year's last musical, which is filled with humor and stunning singing. To make sure that the audience had an enjoyable and fun experience while watching the musical, the students worked hard. They adjusted the microphones and lighting, made props, practiced blocking and vocals, built and painted sets, and put together costumes and makeup. Once everyone knew what needed to be done and successfully accomplished to meet the goals, Lowell High School's presentation of 'Bye Bye Birdie' was ready to be performed for family and friends to enjoy!

The Windy City

By: Breanna Fields, Hannah Crouch, and Katlyn Hamm

The graduating class of 2019 had the opportunity to take a trip to Navy Pier. Students went to Chicago to take a ride on Lake Michigan in a cruise ship, they ate lunch, and had a great time with friends on the dance floor. After, they spent the rest of the day walking around Navy Pier where they could ride the ferris wheel, explore the Crystal Gardens, and many other fun activities available to them. This was the last trip that the class of 2019 got to spend with each other before graduating, so the students made the best of the day.
